HARDING'S PLURALITY 5,000,000 AND HIS ELECTORAL VOTE 401

Solid South Shattered by Tennessee and All Doubtful States but One Have Fallen Into Line.

SENATE MAJORITY 10, LEAD IN HOUSE 121

Several Florida and Louisiana Towns for Harding; Drys Claim Majority in Congress Against Beer and Wine.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Tennessee has swung into the swelling Republican columns, shattering Democratic traditions of a "solid South," unofficial but nearly complete returns from the Volunteer State show.

Figures available today indicate that the landslide will give the Republican presidential ticket a plurality which may reach 5,000,000, and that the Republicans will have a majority of 10 in the Senate and of 121 in the House.

Tennessee's shift from the Democratic ranks, coupled with a similar upset in Oklahoma, reported late last night, assures Warren G. Harding of 401 electoral votes as against 127 definitely in the James M. Cox column, and leaves in doubt but three seats in the Electoral College, those of New Mexico. In New Mexico Republican managers are claiming a Harding plurality, though available returns show a Cox lead.

Tennessee, on the face of returns tabulated by the Memphis Commercial-appeal from 93 of 95 counties, with 60 precincts missing, gives Harding 199,748 votes and Cox 189,732, a Harding plurality of 9,977.

Gov. Roberts (Dem.) was swept out on the Republican tide, and Alf A. Taylor, unsuccessful candidate for Governor against his brother in 1914, was elected.

No further actual upsets are reported from the "solid South," although several towns in Florida and Louisiana and several counties in Georgia and Alabama broke precedent by piling up Harding pluralities.

Congressional Sweep. The Republican congressional sweep assumes larger proportions as latest returns continue to come in. The victory of Samuel D. Nicholson, Republican candidate for the Senate from Colorado, assures President-elect Harding a majority of at least 19 in the Upper House, and of the states where a majority of the electors have not yet been determined, the Republican candidates are in the lead in four—Arizona, Oregon, Nevada and North Dakota. In the fifth, Kentucky, Republican leaders still cling to the hope that late returns will overcome the advantage held by Senator J. O. W. Beckham over Richard P. Ernst, his Republican opponent.

The Republicans have secured 257 seats in the House of Representatives, to 122 for the Democrats and four for other parties, including one Socialist and one prohibitionist. On present returns the Republicans have a plurality of 121.

One Socialist Elected. Late returns also indicated possible turnovers in cases of some Democratic representatives reported elected. A notable instance is in New York, where three Republican candidates reported defeated—Ryan in the Fifteenth District, Ansonie in the Twenty-first and Rosedale in the Twenty-third—have forged ahead or Douling, Donovan and McKlincy, earlier reported elected.

The House will have one Socialist member, Meyer London of New York, who defeated Henry M. Goldfogel, fusion candidate in the Twelfth. The Prohibition party lost its lone representative, but an independent prohibitionist, Milton W. Shreve, was elected from the Twenty-fifth Pennsylvania District.

Several notable upsets occurred in the congressional race—among them the retirement by Missouri voters of former Speaker Champ Clark of the House and the election by Texas voters of a Republican Representative, Harry Waurbach.

Numerals under 1000 have been dropped.

WOMAN ELECTED TO CONGRESS IN SECOND OKLAHOMA DISTRICT

Miss Alice M. Robertson Went to Indian Territory 60 Years Ago in Ox-Cart.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., Nov. 4.—A woman Representative from Congress from Oklahoma became a reality today when belated returns gave victory to Alice M. Robertson, a Republican, over W. W. Hastings, Democratic incumbent, in the Second District.

With but three precincts missing out of the district, Miss Robertson led Judge Hastings by 234 votes. The count stood Robertson 24,627, Hastings 23,793.

Miss Robertson, in a statement given out after reading the latest returns, said that during her entire campaign she did not make a political speech or write a political letter. Although she made several visits through her district, these were, she said, merely "informal social calls" and not in the nature of political gossip.

She expressed herself as against the Wilson League of Nations and is of the opinion that the league issue is now a dead issue. She also declared that she favors a league that does not include "idol worshippers."

"More Democrats voted for me than Republicans," she said, "and no number of people who voted for me wagged against me."

Miss Robertson, who came to the old Indian Territory behind an ox cart as a child more than 60 years ago, with her missionary father, to teach the Indians the white man's gospel, has a majority that on the face of nearly complete unofficial returns will be about 1000 votes. Hastings, in a congratulatory telegram to Miss Robertson, admitted his defeat and pledged her his support.

Miss Robertson has played a picturesque role in the history of the old Indian Territory and early Oklahoma. She was mistress of Muskogee, Okla., where Col. Theodore Roosevelt and is said to have been the only woman postmistress in a city of the first class in the country at that time.

The Koerner indictment was one of 36 returned by the grand jury. Eighteen of these were on charges of stealing from interstate shipments, four charged possession of goods so stolen, five were under the Harrison drug act, and others were under the Dyer interstate automobile theft act.

With him, William Reinhardt, Raymond Richard and Tom Brendley were indicted.

Dr. Thomas S. Manning was indicted under the Harrison drug act, on charges of issuing morphine prescriptions to persons whom he knew to be drug addicts, seeking the regular supply of the drug, and whom he was not endeavoring to cure.

Charles V. Eckert, a druggist, is indicted for selling drugs to some of Dr. Manning's patients.

Leroy Cole and William Alcorn were charged with having returned to the postoffice at Orchard Farm, St. Charles County, on Sept. 23.

PRESIDENT SHOULD RESIGN AT ONCE, SAYS BRYAN

Commoner Gives View on Result of Election When on Visit to Chicago.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—William Jennings Bryan, in Chicago today, gave out a statement suggesting that "President Wilson should resign at once."

"Now that the American people have decisively declared against the League of Nations as written by the President, said Bryan, 'it would seem desirable to carry out the verdict immediately. This can be easily done.'

"The President should resign at once and turn over his office to Mr. Marshall, on the condition that on the evening of Nov. 4, 1920, December Mr. Marshall appoint Secretary of State, and himself resign."

"The law then would make Mr. Harding President, and with the Republican support in Congress, he could at once put into operation the plan for the United States to enter into an association of nations for peace."

"As world peace is a thing nearest the President's heart, he can hardly refuse to hasten the coming of peace by so small a sacrifice—if it could be called a sacrifice—to escape from a three-months' combat with a hostile Congress, supported, as it is, by the recent vote."

SHIP FLYING GERMAN FLAG REACHES NEW YORK FOR CARGO

Vessel of 4800 Tons Was Built During War and Country Was Allowed to Keep It.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The first merchant steamship flying the German flag to come to the port of New York since July, 1914, arrived here today.

The vessel, which marks the resumption of trade with Germany under the flag of that country, was the Sophie Rickmers, a steamer of 4800 tons, built in Germany during the war. She is flying the old German merchant marine flag.

The Sophie Rickmers was retained by the Germans under the provision of the armistice regulations which permitted that country to keep such vessels as were under construction, and not 50 per cent completed when the war ended. She is assigned to the Kerr Steamship Co., as American agents. The ship is in ballast, and will take cargo here for the return voyage. Her captain and crew are Germans.

ICE PULLER ELECTROCUTED WHEN DRYING GLOVES ON MOTOR

Frank Reichardt, 28 years old, of 2736 Chouteau avenue, an ice puller, was killed instantly at 1 a. m. today when he placed his hands, which were encased in wet gloves, on top of an electric motor at the plant of the Polar Wave Ice Co., King's Highway and San Francisco avenue.

Police men were told the wires in the motor apparently had been cut during the night with ice blocks and supposedly laid his hands and gloves on the motor to dry the gloves.

$8000 SWINDLE BY HARDWARE FIRM CLERK ADMITTED

J. C. Dummer Confesses Getting That Amount From Simmons Company on False Invoice Scheme.

ALLEGED ACCOMPLICE ALSO UNDER ARREST

Check for Goods Never Delivered to the Company Were Made Out and Proceeds Divided.

John C. Dummer, 31 years old, of 3459A Grace avenue, a remittance clerk for the Simmons Hardware Co., Ninth and Spruce streets, today made a written confession to the police that since last July he has swindled his employers out of about $8000 through a fraudulent invoice scheme which he said he worked with the collusion of Charles T. Brown, 38 years old, of Wellston, proprietor of the St. Louis Sample Case Co., with an office at Broadway and Walnut street.

Dummer was arrested in Seattle, Wash., five years ago today, and was brought back to St. Louis where he pleaded guilty on a charge of embezzling $1100 from Fairbanks & Co., 217 South Eighth street. He was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary, but was paroled from the bench by Judge Cave. A short time later he obtained employment with the Simmons Hardware Co., where his salary was $175 a month.

Brown, who also was arrested, admitted that he had entered into the scheme with Dummer. He said he sent false invoices and bills to the Simmons Hardware Co. for goods which he had never actually delivered. These passed through the hands of Dummer, who certified them as correct.

Details of the Scheme. Dummer in his confession said he would send the false invoices to the auditor of the Simmons Hardware Co. The auditor would make out checks in payment of the bills and send the checks to Dummer, who would forward them to Brown. Later Dummer would go to Brown's office, he said, and they would divide the proceeds equally.

Statement by Accomplice. Brown told the police he did not know the exact amount obtained in this way, but that if Dummer said it was $8000 he presumed that was the amount.

A representative of a private detective agency said a checking of Dummer's accounts up to last night showed a discrepancy of $13,802.

Private detectives were engaged by the Simmons Hardware Co. about a month ago to investigate discrepancies. Suspicion fell upon Dummer when it was learned that he had bought a $3300 automobile and a $500 diamond stockpin and was making nightly visits to a St. Louis County roadhouse, where he frequently spent $50 in an evening.

The detectives also noticed that Dummer made frequent visits to Brown's office. Canceled checks which had originally passed through his hands were examined and it was found that a large number of these checks had been endorsed and cashed by Brown and that goods for which they were supposed to be in payment had not been received.

Would Make Restitution. In his confession Dummer said the thefts had been going on since last July. He expected that the checks had been turned over to the Simmons Hardware Co. in restitution of an automobile on which he is making payments, his diamond scarf pin a diamond ring and all other property which he possesses, including money in bank.

Deposit slips found on Dummer when he was arrested today showed he had deposited $1800 in a St. Louis bank in the last month.

Three checks made payable to the sample case company and endorsed by Brown range from $29.24 to $743.40. The latter amount seems to have been a favorite, as six checks are made to that sum. The checks are still under way and other checks which passed through Dummer's hands are being traced.

Dummer told the police he was divorced a short time ago and his need for money was caused by bills which he had contracted at department stores.

Brown also is divorced. He owns his home. In his verbal confession he said that he had been selling goods to the Simmons Hardware Co., and that in June, 1919, he went to him almost in tears and told him he needed money. Dummer, he said, suggested the scheme of sending false invoices and bills to the hardware company, and said: 'If you'll make out the invoice, I'll send you the checks and we'll split.' Brown said he himself was in need of money at

MYSTERY IN MURDER OF MAN IN NEW YORK HOTEL

Son of Piano Manufacturer Found Beaten to Death After Engaging Room With Another Man.

BODY BRUISED FROM GOLD-HEADED STICK

Cane Not Found, but Jewelry Carried by Londoner Is Intact—Wealthy Mother Lives in Providence.

SPECIAL TO THE POST-DISPATCH. NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—His skull fractured with an instrument believed to have been his own gold-headed cane, the body of a man identified as Leoda Vaughn Waters, a London clubman, one-time husband of "Baroness Blanche" and son of the late Horace Waters, piano manufacturer, was found yesterday morning on the floor of room 305 in the Plymouth Hotel, 527 West Thirty-eighth street.

An unidentified and shabbily dressed young man who had registered at the hotel with Waters under the name of "James Dunn," escaped from the room after a struggle with John Carney, the night clerk, who was endeavoring to force an entrance following complaint from guests in an adjoining room that a fight was in progress.

Waters was jewelry valued at several thousand dollars, according to B. H. Vaughn of Crestwood, N. Y., his cousin, who identified the body, but Assistant District Attorney Henniss, who is investigating the case, said last night that, so far as the police know, all the jewelry worn by Waters was found on his body and that only his gold-headed cane was missing. No money was found, though Waters should have had at least the change from a $10 bill, which he gave the clerk in payment for the room which he and "Dunn" occupied.

Waters since Aug. 18 had been living with his mother at the Hotel Gramatan, Bronxville, N. Y., where he had a home in London and that his mother lives in Providence, R. I. He said Mrs. Waters is very wealthy. She came to the Gramatan 10 days after her son arrived there and they were to sail to Madeira soon, according to Vaughn.

"THINGS BEING SATISFACTORY, SHAKE," HYDE WIRES BARRETT

New Attorney-General Also Receives Message From Meredith Heartily Congratulating Him.

Jesse W. Barrett, who will be the next Attorney-General of Missouri, stated today that of about 150 congratulatory messages received today at his office in the Third National Bank Building, two pleased him immensely. One was a telegram from Governor-elect Hyde, which read: "Things being satisfactory, shake."

The other was a letter from Willis H. Meredith, the defeated Democratic candidate for Attorney-General. "Heartiest congratulations on your victory," Meredith wrote. "Please accept my best wishes for your success during the next four years."

In thanking Meredith, Barrett wrote: "I'm sorry we both could not be elected."

DELAY IN RETURNS FROM STATE LEAVES AMENDMENTS IN DOUBT

Indications Are That $60,000,000 Road Bond Amendment Has Best Chance of Passage.

NEW CONSTITUTION BODY CLAIMS VICTORY FOR NO. 15

Manager of Federated Roads Council Predicts Plurality of 90,000 for No. 6—Dry Enforcement Measure Apparently Beaten by Heavy Vote Here.

The fate of the 13 proposed amendments to the state constitution and two referendum propositions submitted on the ballot in Tuesday's election remains in doubt today because in many counties no official tabulation was made of the amendment ballot. From those counties reporting, however, it appears that nearly all, if not all, were defeated, the $60,000,000 road bond issue seeming to be the only one which possibly will be shown to have carried.

Reports received at the headquarters of the Federated Roads Council of Missouri indicate that the good road amendment, No. 15, has passed. "In some counties," said Raymond Walsh, the manager, "it has passed by 15 to 1. In St. Louis, 433 precincts reported out of 600 have given it a majority of 74,000 and some of the residence wards, where we expect the largest majorities, have not been heard from. Returns from these should make the St. Louis majority at least 90,000."

Indorsed by Kansas City. In Kansas City the majority is at least 25,000. Every precinct that has reported from St. Louis County has given a majority and the total is estimated at 8000. In Greene County it is 2000. In Jefferson County it has won two to one, with a majority of 2000. Marion County's majority is 3400. In St. Joseph it carried by a vote of six to one and the total was 14,000. With only one precinct missing, Buchanan County, by a vote of three to two, gave 1000. Mississippi County went fifteen to one, Scott County three to one, Wayne County, Calloway County, Randolph County, Butler County, Dunklin County, New Madrid County and Pemiscot County two to one. Excelsior Springs gave a majority of 1500.

"The only counties voting against it that we have heard from so far are Nodaway, Sullivan and Pike. We expected that in Nodaway and Sullivan, because the farmers' clubs up there fought it, but the majority against it was not as great as we expected."

"As it stands we have 150,000 to spare, and even if 50 per cent of the remaining counties went 1000 each against it, we would still have enough to pass it."

The new Constitution amendment is meeting with unexpected opposition in many of the counties. It is possible, though not thought probable, that the St. Louis majority of 30,841 for this amendment reported in 438 of 600 precincts tabulated may pay the balance of the vote.

For New Constitution. Reports received at the headquarters of the New Constitution Association of Missouri give grounds for believing that the fifteenth amendment has passed, said Secretary W. M. Ledbetter. He stated that the majority in St. Louis would be between 40,000 and 45,000, and in Jackson County, including Kansas City, the vote was 52,337 for and 15,921 against. From other parts of the State, he said, reports were meager and scattering, but not unfavorable. Audrain, Boone and Johnson counties were for it and one precinct in Lincoln County went more than three to one for it.

Vote on Dry Enforcement. On ratification of the prohibition enforcement law there apparently will be a majority in the run-off election. The indications are it will not be sufficient to overcome the St. Louis majority of 78,250 against it. On the other amendments there are not sufficient returns to even indicate the trend of the vote out in the State.

If it should be found that amendments 10 and 12 were passed, Gov. Gardner would have five new Judges in higher courts to name, four of whom he might select from his own party. Amendment No. 10 provides for the creation of two new judgeships in the Supreme Court, and No. 12 for three more judgeships in the St. Louis Court of Appeals. It is provided, in the latter case, that not more than two of the appointees shall be of the same party. The Judges so appointed would serve until after the state election of November, 1922.

ROUND ROBIN ON LEAGUE HARDING'S BASIS OF POLICY

Will Revert to It as Having Merit of Affording Start in Reconciling Factions in Senate.

ROOT SAID NOT TO BE IN HIGH FAVOR

Men Reflecting Senator's Viewpoint Lean More to Johnson and Borah Than to Root or Taft.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE.
A Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

MARION, O., Nov. 4.—President-elect Harding will revert to the round robin signed by the Republicans of the United States Senate in March, 1915, as the basis of foreign policy in the new administration.

This plan, which has been confidentially discussed during the campaign, will be put into effect just as soon after inauguration as possible. It has the merit of affording a beginning in the inevitable process of reconciliation between the various factions in the Senate.

No matter what the votes may have been on the peace treaty and covenant, the round robin is the single document that all the Republican Senators, both irreconcilables and reservationists, have signed.

Senator Borah may have remarked during the campaign that he was against all associations or alliances of any kind, but his name was signed to the round robin, the text of which puts him on record as favoring some kind of a league of nations.

Attitude Toward Root.
Moreover, it may be a surprise to the world outside of Marion, O., but it is an open secret here, that Elihu Root will not be Secretary of State in the next administration. Also it may be disclosed that Mr. Root is not in particular high favor here and that he will not be the minister extraordinary or high commissioner to deal with Europe as so many people have supposed.

There is not the intimacy between Senator Harding and Mr. Root which has been so often suggested as the basis for a Harding-Root team on foreign policy in the next Republican administration. This may be disappointing to a large number of people but it is nevertheless true.

It is known for instance, that Mr. Root sent Mr. Harding a cablegram from London, the friendliness of which to the present League of Nations was not to the liking of the then Republican candidate for the presidency.

Also there is a feeling here that Mr. Root didn't play the game during the campaign, and that the part he took in the formation of the international court which has been created under the League of Nations, was a direct recognition of a type of world organization which the Republican party was fighting.

Irreconcilable Position.
There is no particular bitterness or hate against the people who made the present League of Nations, but one encounters strong convictions among the men who reflect Senator Root's viewpoint, convictions that lean more to the so-called "irreconcilables" like Johnson, Borah and McCormick, than the pro-leaguers like Root or Taft.

To be sure, most of the folks surrounding Harding from whom he has been taking advice are anti-leaguers and "bitter-enders." They make no secret of the fact that the overwhelming election returns are mainly pointed to by them as a vindication of the "irreconcilable" viewpoint. Senator Harding, however, has always insisted that his political opponents purposely misconstrued his position as one of opposition to any league or association whatsoever.

Perhaps this was because neither Senator Borah nor Senator Johnson, leaders of the irreconcilable group, spent much time arguing which kind of a league they would favor, but condemning the present league.

The Republican platform in Chicago, accepted by Borah and Johnson, favors "an international agreement" to accomplish the same general objects which the Democrats have claimed the purpose of the Wilson covenant. But more specifically than the Republican platform, the Harding policy is reflected in the following text of the famous round robin sent originally by the Republicans in the Senate as a warning to President Wilson in the midst of the peace negotiations:

"Whereas a committee of the peace conference has proposed a constitution for a league of nations and the proposal is now before the peace conference for its consideration, now, therefore,

"Be it resolved by the Senate of the United States in the discharge of its constitutional duty of advice in regard to treaties that it is the sense of the Senate that, while it is its desire that the nations of the world should unite to promote peace and general disarmament, the constitution of the League of Nations in the form now proposed to the peace conference should not be accepted by the United States, and,

"Be it resolved, further, that it is the sense of the Senate that the negotiations on the part of the United States should be directed to the utmost expedition of the urgent business of negotiating peace terms satisfactory to the United States and the nations associated in the war against the German Government and the proposal for a League of Nations to insure the permanent peace of the world should then be taken up for careful and serious consideration."

ness of negotiating peace terms satisfactory to the United States and the nations associated in the war against the German Government and the proposal for a League of Nations to insure the permanent peace of the world should then be taken up for careful and serious consideration."

It is the last paragraph favoring a League of Nations to insure permanent peace and the preceding paragraph expressing a desire "that the nations of the world should unite to promote peace and general disarmament" which affords President-elect Harding his promise for a new foreign policy. Senators Borah and Johnson cannot go back on their signatures to that document. They are committed to a general alliance or association of whatever name it may be called.

Unquestionably it will be President-elect Harding's purpose to negotiate a treaty with Germany covering the main points in the Versailles treaty which relate especially to the United States.

As for the formation of a league of nations, it is genuinely hoped by the President-elect that the good in the present covenant may be retained and that the bad, as he sees it, shall be removed by the common consent of all the nations now members of the league.

Senator Harding particularly objects to article 10 and article 11 and the clauses relating to international law as well as sundry other articles involving the use of economic blockade. Senator McCormick and others declare confidently that the European nations will gladly scrap the present league and agree to a revision and redrafting of the whole business.

Now, in considering this league question, it is well to bear in mind, first, that the President-elect has an idea Europe is less interested in the present league than in America's cooperation in some kind of world organization and that, just as Woodrow Wilson may have influenced the formation of the kind of a league he believed America wanted, so another President has the moral power to put through his particular kind of program.

Just what the League of Nations will look like when the negotiations between the next administration and the European Powers are concluded is difficult to say. Some "irreconcilables" will be satisfied if they can eliminate article 10, which Mr. Wilson called the "heart of the covering" and that article gone and other articles substituted they may be ready to call it a "new association," or the "Harding league," and push for ratification.

The one thing certain thus far is that President-elect Harding considers himself committed to some kind of a league or association of nations. Beyond that no one can go, except to say that it is pretty well assumed and understood in Washington that Elihu Root will not be the dominant figure in the next administration which public opinion around the world has been so ready to predict that he would be.

NEGOTIATIONS ON JAPANESE

Result of California Anti-Allen Law
Election Will Not Affect Washington Conference.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Adoption by the California electorate Tuesday of the referendum measure restricting the right of aliens to lease or hold real property in that State will not affect, it was learned yesterday, the continuance of negotiations here between the Japanese Ambassador and the State Department as to the status of Japanese in California and the general subject of Japanese immigration. The heavy majority in favor of the restricting measure, it was said, had been fully discounted in advance and negotiations have made much progress that should a treaty result it may reach the Senate during the winter session.

Negotiations will be resumed fully on the return of Ambassador Morita this week. The Japanese Ambassador conferred yesterday with Secetary Colby but no statement as to the purpose of his visit was given out.

Officials here were inclined to view the majority in California for the anti-alien measure as tending against its being regarded as a party issue in the Senate. In that case, it was suggested, the Senate might be inclined to relieve the incoming administration of the necessity of inaugurating new conversations after March 4 and to ratify the treaty as proposed by the retiring administration if the settlement outlined was acceptable in principle.

But a glance is necessary to assure one of their very superior rank. Lavishly fur trimmed, irreproachable as to tailoring and rich in fabrics and full silk linings, every one of these garments recommends itself as a Coat far removed from the commonplace. According to our past schooling in values it is almost impossible to associate the superlative characteristic of these Coats with the relatively low price affixed.

Illustrated from left to right are—

1. A Bedouin brown Coat Wrap, stitched in darker brown. Price, $67.50.

2. A luxurious Zanzibar Wrap of chamoistyne cloth, elaborately hand embroidered across the back. Price, $97.50.

3. A Zanzibar brown, deep sleeved Coat effectively stitched in brown silk. Price, $67.50.

4. Malay brown velveteen, unusual because of the double collar arrangement, giving the effects of a shoulder cape. Price, $97.50.

5. Twilight Bolivia makes this very graceful affair with elaborate cuffs and collars of French seal and black bullet buttons. Price, $97.50.

G. O. P. POLITICIANS LOOKING TO HYDE FOR 2000 JOBS

Members of Kiel-Schmoll-Goldstein Organization Already Talking About Plums
After Delivering Vote.

THEY OPPOSED
HYDE IN PRIMARY

Governor-Elect in Campaign
Said He Had Made No
Promises and Would Fill
All Places on Efficiency.

Politicians of the Kiel-Schmoll-Goldstein element of the St. Louis Republican organization, having delivered the St. Louis vote to the full extent of their power for Arthur M. Hyde for Governor, notwithstanding their bitter opposition to him in the primary, today had begun talking of appointments which the new Governor will have to make. Hyde, who goes into office early in January after a campaign pledge, made many times from the stump, that he had not promised a job and that he was not under the slightest obligation to any party politician or any other person, is at the beginning of his troubles, just as every other Governor who ever has taken office has been at the beginning of his term.

He has 2000 or more jobs at his disposal. Party politicians expect those jobs, on the political theory that if jobs are not given as rewards for party services, there can always be found within the party men "just as capable as those outside the party."

Conference on Appointments. Hyde said to a Post-Dispatch reporter yesterday that he would consult with members of the Republican organization regarding appointments and other matters, but that in making appointments the first consideration would be efficiency in the public service.

After Hyde had obtained the nomination over the opposition of the organization politicians in St. Louis, excepting the Koeln-Foristel faction, which supported him, the politicians had a choice of two courses. One was to attempt to defeat Hyde in the expectation that they could hope for more consideration from a Democrat than from a progressive Republican. The other was to support him with all the power at their command, and thus to put themselves in a position to demand what they would for the service rendered. A somewhat similar situation faced former Gov. Hadley when he was elected in 1908, though at that time there was no serious division in the St. Louis Republican organization. Hadley disappointed the politicians. They got practically nothing from him.

How Hadley Made Selections. In making appointments Hadley, knowing virtually nothing about St. Louis conditions, had a habit of sending a close friend on a confidential mission to St. Louis. He looked over the field, talked to the organization politicians, and reported to Hadley. Almost invariably this report was to the effect that the man should not be appointed, and that somebody else, a Republican, but not a politician, should be chosen. And almost invariably Hadley followed the recommendation.

As a result Hadley was not the kind of a Governor the St. Louis politicians liked. They took the position that they knew more about St. Louis than anybody Hadley could send down and that anyway, they were entitled to the jobs. They fussed and fumed and complained to Hadley and to the State organization, but the next time there was a vacancy Hadley followed the same course.

It finally came about that every time Jesse Tolerton, State Game Warden under Hadley, Frank Wightman or Secretary of State Swanger showed up in St. Louis, the organization politicians almost frothed at the mouth. They were Hadley's regular emissaries.

Foristel Was for Hyde.

The political politics of the present situation, if Hyde should receive advice in St. Louis, would be for Edward W. Foristel, a lawyer in the Wainwright Building, to be the real St. Louis power in State politics. Foristel was the man behind the scenes in managing Hyde's St. Louis campaign. While he is closely associated with Collector Koeln in politics, and while Koeln publicly stated he was for McInnesy, Hyde's opponent in the primary, Foristel was for Hyde, and the Koeln wards went for Hyde.

It naturally would follow in politics for Hyde to consult with Foristel in the primary, but Hyde's political history has been that of an independent—he was with Roosevelt in 1912, and has always been more or less of a crusader—and the politicians are wondering whether he will "listen to reason" or whether he will be another Hadley. When the subject was broached to Hyde by a reporter in the campaign his only remark was that "they would find out."

A Home-Made
Gray Hair Remedy

You can prepare a simple mixture at home that will gradually darken gray hair and make it soft and glossy. To a half-gallon of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Barba Champoud and 4 ounces of glycerine. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at 25 cents each. The mixture will not get it up for you. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray-haired person look many years younger. It is easy to use, does not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off.

NEW PLAN FOR WIDENING
12TH STREET SOUTH OF MARKET

Mayor Orders Bill Drawn Cutting 25 Feet Off West Side From Market to the Viaduct

Mayor Kiel today decided that it would not be feasible to carry out the full plan for the widening of Twelfth street, from Market street south to the viaduct, by cutting off 35 feet on each side. He directed Street Director Talbert to prepare an ordinance for the widening of the street by cutting 25 feet from the west side, thus increasing the roadway from 50 to 75 feet in width.

This will remove the grass plot between sidewalk and curb, in front of the city hall, but will not encroach on the city hall lawn. South of Clark avenue it will require condemnation of some property, but it is believed the damages will not exceed $25,000. The original plan, for taking 35 feet from each side of the street, would have made necessary the condemnation of business buildings, and of the comparatively new Police Headquarters building. The Mayor said he believed the addition of 25 feet would give as wide a roadway as would be required.

SUIT AGAINST MERCHANTS'
BRIDGE DROPPED AFTER 10 YEARS

Action Was Brought by Patent Attorney, Who Sought to Revoke Company's Charter.

John C. Higdon, a patent attorney, today dismissed a suit which he filed 10 years ago in the United States District Court and in which he asked that the charter of the Merchants' Bridge Co. be forfeited because of its merger with the company controlling the Eads bridge.

As ground for his suit Higdon alleged that the forfeiture should be ordered under a clause of the charter which said that whenever the bridge should cease to be operated independently it should revert to the people. The case was never heard and had been continued from term to term for 10 years.

Higdon today said he decided to withdraw the suit because he had never been able to enlist the aid of civic organizations to help him in the litigation.

SOVIETS, FEARING BIG COUNTER REVOLUTION, ARREST THOUSANDS

3000 of Former Czar's Officers Said to Have Been Interned—Danger Coming, Trotsky Says.

By the Associated Press. COPENHAGEN, Nov. 3.—The Berlingske Tidende's Koven respondent says today that Moscow newspapers received in Koven record an official announcement of the discovery by the Soviets of plans for a big counter revolution. Precautions have been taken, and thousands of persons are being arrested daily, the newspapers say, and the general staff has detained 3000 of the former Czar's officers who have been interned in Orenburg.

According to the Moscow Pravda, as quoted by the correspondent, Leon Trotsky, the Bolshevik Minister of War and Marine, in a speech in Petrograd, declared: "I know danger is coming. I realize the possibility of a severe winter, but though three-fourths of the population die of hunger and cold, the remainder will survive to carry through to victory world revolution."

STOCK OF CLOTH DAMAGED

Defective Radiator Causes $20,000 Loss at 710 Olive Street.

Escaping steam from a defective radiator on the third floor of the building at 710 Olive street seeped through the flooring at 10 o'clock this morning and damaged the stock of the Dundee Woolen Mills Co., on the first floor. David Goldman, manager of the company, estimated damage to the stock at about $20,000.

The watchman employed in the building said that he had tried to shut off the flow of steam and had summoned an engineer from the Union Electric Light and Power Co.'s downtown plant, but as they were unable to stop it, the water had leaked through to the first floor.

PASTOR HAS TO LIVE IN CHURCH

As a result of the shortage of suburban residences, the Rev. E. C. George, the new pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church South at Ferguson, and his wife have taken up their abode in the church.

The parsonage was sold some time ago, when it was occupied by a former pastor, who at that time was a bachelor, and who gave up the residence to relieve the housing situation in Ferguson. He since has married and gone to Seattle, Wash.

Dry Violation Charged.

George Lawler, proprietor of a saloon at 711 St. Clair avenue, East St. Louis, and Freddie Faros of Dutch Hollow, Ill., were arrested yesterday on charges of violating the prohibition law. Deputy United States Marshal Smith who arrested Faros says he found several barrels of booze on Faros's premises.

To Relieve Catarrh,
Catarrhal Deafness
and Head Noises

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness, or who are growing hard of hearing and have head noises will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can usually be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected complete relief after other treatments have failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from their ears. Therefore, if you know of someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer from total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parment's double strength Eustachian tube granules. Put in a small glass bottle. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Parment's is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian tube, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, all the results of which are nearly always quick and effective.

Every person who has catarrh in any form, or distressing rumbling, hissing, or roaring in their ears, should give this recipe a trial.

3 YOUTHFUL ROBBERS
MAY GO TO BOONVILLE

Circuit Attorney's Office Recommends Reformatory for Trio Under 5-Year Sentences.

Circuit Judge Hall has taken under advisement the recommendation of the Circuit Attorney's office that three youths who have pleaded guilty of highway robbery and been sentenced to five years in the penitentiary, be sent to the State Reformatory at Boonville. The recommendation was based on the plea of the defendants that they had no previous police record.

Two of the youths, James Benson of 3825A St. Louis avenue, and Arthur Germer of 3039 Whittier street, each 19 years old, pleaded guilty of participation with two others in the holdup of the Pevely Dairy Co.'s West End station, at 5675 Delmar boulevard, June 7, when $1554 was taken from the cashier, Miss Cora M. Kinder.

George Reich, 2727 Thomas street, one of the other defendants in this case, will go to trial next Monday. The fourth defendant, James Brendle, 4251 Ashland avenue, has forfeited his bond.

EX-CONVICT ARRESTED AS

He was released from the penitentiary last March after serving a term for automobile theft.

HARDING WOULD WIPE OUT
LAST VESTIGE OF SECTIONALISM

Telegram to New Orleans Paper Expresses Appreciation of Support in Louisiana.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 4.—In a telegram yesterday to the Daily States here, the managing editor of the Marion Star, Senator Harding's paper, said:

"Senator Harding asks our office to utter his most grateful appreciation of the fine vote given him in Louisiana, particularly as it manifests a growing belief in the Republican position. He asks me to say to you he has one ambition, which is to wipe out the last vestige of sectionalism in America in thought, politics, our economic life and in government."

BOLSHEVIKI IN SOUTH RUSSIA
CAPTURE THREE ARMORED TRAINS

WARSAW, Nov. 4.—Advices from South Russia report that during their drive against Gen. Wrangel between Melitopol and Alexandrovsk the Bolsheviks captured three armored trains. They now control hundreds of miles of main line railroad, it is stated. At Melitopol the Soviet forces also are said to have captured millions of pounds of flour and grain, as well as other supplies, including fuel and munitions. The advices add that the Bolsheviks are regrouping their forces in order to continue the offensive.

ARIZONA SENATOR-ELECT WAS

Was Last Delegate to Lower House Prior to Statehood Being Granted; Is Republican.

By the Associated Press.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 4.—On the basis of returns from Tuesday's election, Arizona is sending back to Washington as Senator her last Territorial Delegate to Congress, Ralph H. Cameron, Republican, who was largely instrumental, his friends say, in securing statehood for Arizona. Cameron is 57 years old, a native of Maine and has been in Arizona since 1898. He helped organize Coconino County, of which Flagstaff is county seat, and was Coconino's first Sheriff. In 1908 he was named Territorial Delegate to Congress and served until 1915, when Arizona became a State.

For the last few years he has been interested in mining and water-power projects. He is married and has two children.

MAN LEAPS FROM AUTO AS ENGINE WRECKS IT

Two Others Suffer Fractured Skulls When Their Machine Skids and Turns Over.

Arch L. Cummings, secretary of a sand company, living at the Missouri Athletic Club and at Labadie, Mo., escaped injury yesterday by jumping from his automobile when the machine was wrecked by a switch engine of the Wabash Railroad at the Lindell and Union boulevards crossing at Forest Park. The machine was dragged for some distance.

Cummings explained he was driving east on Lindell and did not see the lights on the crossing gates, which were down at the time. As the machine crashed into the gates, he said, he heard the engine approaching and jumped out in time to avoid injury.

Robert Jenkins, 11, 1018A Mississippi avenue, suffered cuts and bruises when struck by an automobile driven by Charles R. Davis of 1841 Minnesota avenue at Chouteau and Mississippi avenues as he ran from behind a street car across the street.

John Carleton Jr., 18, of 4138 North Broadway, fell off the side of a Broadway car trailer near Salisbury street and on to the fender of an automobile driven by Sidney S. Steiner, 4803 Fountain avenue, suffering a fractured shoulder and injury to his back. Steiner, seeing the boy clinging to the car and realizing there was not room for him to pass with the machine, swerved the automobile just as the boy fell while trying to alight, and the machine crashed into the automobile of Joseph Epstein, 3627 North Broadway, parked in front of that number.

Sylvester O'Connell, 24, of 1439 North Twenty-second street, was thrown from a truck he was driving in collision with a truck driven by Tony Demma, 1010 North Eleventh street, at Sixth street and Franklin avenue.

Arthur H. Lohman, 34, of 3227 Pestalozzi street, and Fred Schreiber, 47, of 3434 Shaw avenue, suffered fractured skulls and scalp wounds when an automobile driven by Lohman, in which both were riding, skidded and turned over as Lohman attempted to turn into Utah street from Gravois avenue.

BOY CHESS EXPERT ARRIVES IN AMERICA

Samuel Rzeschewski, Polish Lad of 9, Beat 11 Picked Opponents on Way Over.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Completing the first ocean voyage of his brief existence, during which he gave one very impressive exhibition of his skill against a picked team of passengers, Samuel Rzeschewski, the 9-year-old Polish chess expert, who has played with marked success at the principal chess centers of Poland, Germany, Austria, Belgium, Holland, France and England, arrived here yesterday on board the steamship Olympic of the White Star Line.

Accompanied by his father, mother and C. A. Asenbren, his manager, the extraordinarily endowed child was quickly found by the photographers and cinema operators off quarantine, who coaxed him from the game of tag he was playing with a grown-up fellow passenger.

He stood the ordeal well, first down the bay and again at the pier, and he acted like a seasoned traveler. Apparently thoughts of chess were far from his mind, although only the evening before he had given a remarkable demonstration of what he could do against a picked team of players from the passenger list of the Olympic.

Eleven opponents at as many tables, including the blindfolded game, were pitted against him, but none was a match for him, and he made a clean sweep on all the boards. It took but an hour to finish the entertainment, which was given for the benefit of the seamen's charities in the second-class saloon. While the steamship was still off quarantine, Rzeschewski was subjected to an interesting test by Herman Holms, editor of the American Chess Bulletin, who handed him a pocket chess-board whereon was set up a proposition from one of more than a hundred games played by Rzeschewski in England. Through his manager, he was asked if he had ever seen it before.

For a moment he studied the diagram, but quickly the serious aspect gave way to a smile of recognition as he indicated the few moves that had followed in the actual game. It had been played in London with Griffith, one-time British champion, both he and Rzeschewski having been blindfolded, and the child-master was the winner.

In recognition of this demonstration of his skill yesterday, the chess-board in question was presented to him. It was the first prize the phenomenon acquired in the new world. After landing, Rzeschewski and his party went to the Pennsylvania Hotel.

Relatives of A. J. Fox Sought.

Descendants of Andrew J. Fox, who was a portrait painter and photographer at Fourth and Olive streets 50 years ago, are being sought by fellowmen at the request of Frank Fox of 218 Winston street, Los Angeles, Cal., a nephew, who wrote to Chief O'Brien saying he wanted to get in touch with St. Louis relatives. Fox was the father of Della Fox, actress, and was last known in the neighborhood of Fourteenth and Olive streets.

TIME AND PAPER SAVING IN BERLIN OFFICIAL BUSINESS

Former Kaiser's Blank Commissions Used Without Change in Date or Wording.

Special Correspondence of the Post-Dispatch. FRANKFORT-ON-MAINE, Oct. 10.—"A member of our editorial staff," says the Frankfurter Zeitung, "received from the Aid Office No. 1, Berlin, Pension Branch O, an army Captain's commission, dated Great General Headquarters, Jan. 15, 1914. The envelope was postmarked Sept. 15, 1920. The certificate begins with the well-known 'gracious phrase':

"We, Wilhelm, by the Grace of God, King of Prussia, etc., declare and herewith announce," bears the royal seal and is "signed" with the facsimile stamp "Wilhelm R." (R. meaning "rex"—King.) "Just as if nothing had happened the revolutionary 'Captain' is declared to be in duty to 'Our Royal House' bound to place himself 'as our faithful servant at our disposal' in any warlike events, 'willingly and without hesitation risking his body and life,' etc."

Got a cold and decided to let it wear off, have you? This neglect and taking chances with colds is responsible for more deaths than the whole list of diseases. It paves the way for all kinds of disease, particularly pneumonia.

The cold settles down and attacks the lining of the lungs—then it is pneumonia. Take no chances. It builds fighting strength to ward off disease.

DANDRUFF SOON RUINS THE HAIR

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it. You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

ANNEXATION SUIT LOST BY CLAYTON

St. Louis Court of Appeals Rules Against That City Taking in 1025-Acre Tract.

The City of Clayton, by a decision of the St. Louis Court of Appeals yesterday, is denied the right to annex a tract of 1025 acres to the southwest, which it voted to do in 1916. This is believed to be the first time any Missouri city, except St. Louis, has been denied the privilege of extending its corporate limits.

Cities in Missouri have the legal right to annex territory by the vote of residents of the city alone, except in the case of St. Louis, not a part of any county, where residents of portions in St. Louis County to be annexed would have to approve annexation, which has been unsuccessfully attempted.

Nature of the Suit.
The decision of the Court of Appeals was by way of upholding a decision by Circuit Judge Wurdeman of St. Louis County in December, 1917, and perpetuating an injunction granted by Judge Wurdeman which forbids Clayton to exercise municipal jurisdiction over the tract involved. The suit in Circuit Court was brought by E. H. Stoltman, a real estate dealer, who lives on a 10-acre tract at Clayton and McKnight roads, within the "annexed" section, who acted for other residents of the district.

The land was "annexed" at a special election in Clayton in July, 1916, and Stoltman filed suit just a year later. The tract is about a mile and a quarter square and is sparsely populated, being chiefly devoted to country homes and agricultural land. It extends from the North and South road, which has been the western limits of Clayton, west to the Price road, and between Clayton road and a line north of Ladue road.

Arguments in the plaintiff's original petition, which the Appeal Court upheld as making annexation unreasonable and unnecessary, were that the population did not justify the addition, that the land value would be decreased by annexation, that police protection was not needed in the district nor had any been received since 1916 and that no other benefits of municipal government had been received.

The city argued that the tract, or part of it, was needed in furtherance of plans for an improved municipal sewage system.

Residents of District.
Among the residents of the territory west of Clayton which cannot be annexed are the following: Hugh McKittrick Jones, County Assessor Bode, Gustave A. Milbradt, B. H. Stoltman, William N. Matthews, H. E. Honeywell, Frederick H. Semple, Hamp Rothwell, Leopold Ackerman, Edward S. Pillsbury, Lorenze Lazear, David Remley and J. Englander. Paul Bakewell Jr. was Stoltman's attorney, and Clayton was represented by State Senator Gardner and C. C. Wolff.

GARMENT ASSOCIATION HOLDING SESSION HERE

Style Committee Will Not Report at This Meeting; Election
Tomorrow.

The American Wholesale Garment Association opened its second annual convention at Hotel Statler today, and will be in session until tomorrow. The association comprises wholesalers in all sections of the country except the East, where similar organizations exist, but was organized in New York City a year ago, because of the preponderance of the garment trade there.

There may be some changes in styles announced by the association late this autumn, but the Style Committee is not expected to report until a subsequent meeting in New York. Styles in women's wear, Alois Schwartz of St. Louis, president of the association, said, are dictated to a large extent by the wholesalers, but prices are under the control of supply and demand.

Schwartz, who is president of the Schwartz Importing Co., 1438-40 Washington avenue, said that prices are not more than 25 per cent higher now than before the war. "We believe incomes have increased more than that," he said, "and that therefore women's wear is proportionately cheaper than several years ago." Wholesalers of women's cloaks and suits chiefly compose the association's membership, but there are also waist and underwear wholesalers. The present meeting is for the discussion of business problems and the sessions are private.

Discussions were held today on "Means to Overcome the Return Goods Evil" and "Our Relations With Manufacturers." Officers will be elected tomorrow.

C. C. Higgins and One Other Crushed to Death, Two Hurt When Freight Train Crashes Into Private Car.

JOPLIN, Mo., Nov. 4.—C. C. Higgins of Springfield, Mo., superintendent of motive power for the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad, and Paul Pennell of Monett, Mo., were killed and M. Boucher and A. C. Newton were seriously injured when an extra freight train crashed into Higgins' private car at Racine, Mo., 20 miles south of here at 9 o'clock last night.

The private car was attached to a southbound passenger train and an empty coach between it and the two passenger coaches saved the train crew and passengers from injury. The private car was demolished. Higgins and Boucher, his secretary, were asleep in their berths.

ENTIRE REPUBLICAN TICKET CARRIES IN ST. CLAIR COUNTY

Schaumleffel, Who Ran Behind Ticket, Got Plurality of 2503 in Race for State's Attorney.

Complete returns from Tuesday's election today showed that St. Clair County was carried by the entire Republican ticket, including State's Attorney Schaumleffel, who ran far behind the rest of the ticket.

The unprecedented Republican plurality, however, was enough to carry Schaumleffel over. While Harding's plurality in the county was 7946, Schaumleffel was elected by a plurality of only 2503. Osterhaus, the Farmer-Labor candidate, got 6717 votes.

Schaumleffel ran behind in Belleville, his home, and was badly beaten in East St. Louis, but was not noticeably scratched in the country districts.

The result as to the East Side Levee Board remained in doubt today, pending returns from the Madison County precincts that lie within the district with the probable result that a majority and perhaps all of the five members will be Republican.

Congressman Rodenberg's plurality in St. Clair County was the largest ever given him. The vote in the county was: Rodenberg, 21,186; McCasland, 12,649; Hayes, 7094.

The three representatives to the Legislature will be James Rentchler, Charles F. Short, Republican, and Frank Holtz, Democrat.

Frank Munchloch succeeds John O'Flaherty as Clerk of the Circuit Court, and Otto Welbert succeeds Cornelius Summers as Recorder. R. F. Barker of East St. Louis defeated C. P. Renner, the incumbent, for Coroner. George Eckert was re-elected Auditor, his vote running close to that for Harding.

Complete Returns from County. Complete returns from St. Clair County, including East St. Louis and Belleville, follow:

Senator—McKinley, 21,961; Waller, 13,428.

Governor—Small, 20,999; Lewis, 14,096.

Representatives in the Assembly—Republicans: Rentchler, 31,930; Short, 29,207. Democrats: Holtz, 23,227; Borders, 20,351. Farmer-Labor: Christopher, 8320; Mason, 5348.

Circuit Clerk—Mundloch, 20,876; O'Flaherty, 14,546.

Recorder—Welbert, 20,551; Summers, 14,722.

State's Attorney—Schaumleffel, 18,900; Cook, 15,497; Osterhaus, 6717.

Mentho Laxene

Old, Cough and Cough Medicine for Young and Old. 4000 Barrels Were Used Last Year! Why? Because it's the Best and Cheapest. First Dose Believes.

You buy it of any well-stocked drugist in 2 1/2 oz. bottles and take in ten-drop doses, or better yet, mix it with simple sugar syrup, made by dissolving 1/2 of a pound of granulated sugar in a half-pint of boiling water. It is so easy to make a whole pint of cold and cough syrup that tens of thousands of mothers make it every year for their loved ones.

All agree that this home-made cough syrup is free from harmful drugs, and that only a few doses are required for each case, so that a pint will last a family throughout the winter season.

For colds, catarrh, cough, sore throat, hoarseness, and bronchitis, there is nothing superior for prompt, lasting relief. Guaranteed by The Blackburn Products Co., Dayton, Ohio, to please or money back.

LEIPZIG.—On the achievements of the ancient Greeks and Romans in literature and science every college and university is versed, yet little is known of the great technical successes of the ancient engineers, some of which are enumerated in an article written by O. Stange for the Grenzboten.

When the Euphrates Island of Samos, waterworks mentioned by Herodotus were constructed in the middle of the sixth century B. C., a tunnel about one mile long was driven through the Kastro Mountain, certainly a respectable achievement, when one considers the limited mechanical means at the disposal of the builders. From the books of the Alexandrian mathematician Heron, one sees that ancient engineers knew how to figure beforehand the direction of a tunnel.

The fine medical instruments, of which many have been excavated, give evidence of high mechanical skill. Ancient instrument makers manufactured clepsydres (water clocks) that could be carried in pockets and were used by Herophilos to measure the temperature of patients.

The present day slot machine and taximeter are imitations of similar ancient inventions. Even to ballistic war machines ancient peoples applied ideas which play an important part in modern warfare—the "poly-bon" being, in a certain meaning, the predecessor of our repeating arms, and the "monankon" of the mine thrower.

ENORMOUS INCREASE IN EXPORTS OF U. S. PACKERS

Foreign Consignments in 1919 Were 4,148,745,435 Pounds, Against 1,347,287,783 Pounds.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—Enormous increases in the volume of meat products exported by American packers in the last decade are shown in statistics recently made public here by the Institute of American Meat Packers. Foreign consignments from packing plants for the year 1919 show an increase over 1913 of approximately 2,800,000,000 pounds, or 104 per cent of the pre-war volume. The years of 1913 and 1919 were taken as a basis of comparison, the statement says, because they are the first full calendar years before and after the war period.

In 1913 the total exports of meat and dairy products from the United States amounted to 1,347,287,783 pounds. In 1919 the figures reached 4,148,745,435 pounds. Eggs shipped abroad in 1913 totaled 37,068,573 cases, against 28,789,470 in 1919. Bacon is given first place in point of volume in the detailed list of commodities, with 1,190,297,494 pounds in 1919 and 112,194,618 pounds in 1913. Fresh beef consignments in 1919 were 4,420,123 pounds and last year 174,424,999 pounds. Lard, ham and condensed milk are other leading items in the 1919 total.

Dairy products made even greater strides in export than did meats during the period, showing increases ranging from about 100 per cent in eggs to more than 1000 per cent in butter. Cheese shipments jumped from approximately 2,500,000 pounds in 1913 to more than 14,000,000 pounds in 1919. Butter for the same years was exported to the extent of 2,332,966 and 34,556,485 pounds respectively.

Lincoln's Blackstone Preserved.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 4.—The historic volume of Blackstone's Commentaries from which Abraham Lincoln first studied law may find a final resting place, incased in glass, in the office of Attorney-General Brundage. The book still shows the results of a bath it received when Lincoln, while returning home, dropped it in a stream, when he stumbled on a cross-log. He had borrowed the volume from Judge Pitcher and, it is said, weeded the Judge's garden to make restitution for the damage done. At present the book is the property of Leroy M. Wade of Vincennes, Ind. He has signified his willingness to have it placed in the office of the Attorney-General of Illinois.

Blanton Cream

The

Blanton Creamo Leads Them All!

THE New York Tribune, the old reliable family paper, serving the best and most conservative reading public in New York, conducts a housekeeping Institute which investigates, analyzes and tests food products. Only such foods as meet the requirements of highest quality and exacting standards are endorsed by the Tribune Institute, and this endorsement cannot be purchased at any price. In its investigations of Oleomargarine the Tribune Institute selected only two brands for its endorsement. It is most gratifying to note that Blanton Creamo was put first. These tests were made without the knowledge of The Blanton Company, samples evidently having been bought on the open market from a local dealer.

(From a Report on Oleomargarine, March 21st, 1920)

TWO OLEOS

Creamo Oleomargarine—The Blanton Company, St. Louis, Mo.
Blank Oleomargarine—The Blank Company, Chicago, Ill.

THESE products have been subjected to a thorough chemical test and shown to be of excellent quality, free from any adulteration and accurately labeled. Cooking tests in the Institute Laboratory have been made to determine their edibility and adaptation to special uses.

THESE oleos are typical of the best of their kind, containing not more than 10 per cent of water, while butter may have 16 per cent. This fact further substantiates the claims made for economy, as they both "go further" and cost less, the price being only 44 and 45 cents a pound, as compared with almost twice as much for butter. For flavor, from 5 to 10 per cent of butter is added to the other vegetable and animal fats used in making oleomargarine.

THE inspection of oleo plants insures sanitary manufacture and uniformity. The coloring material which may accompany the package is of the same type as is used in butter and may be used or not at the will of the buyer. No preservatives are used. Oleos even have some of the vitamins (protective food value with growth-promoting tendencies), that are the special claim of animal fats such as butter, inasmuch as beef fat and butter are used in their manufacture.

The TRIBUNE INSTITUTE, New York

(The above refers to Blanton Creamo Oleomargarine)

Blanton Creamo Nut Butter

(In the Blue Package)

A Pure, Wholesome Food

Give the children all they want. It is a body builder.

Its creamy appetizing taste appeals to them, while the rich pasteurized cream and cocoanut oils provide food value that makes youngsters healthy and strong.

Blanton Creamo Nut Butter represents the highest skill of the chemist and churner. To make it requires expertness attained only by years of study and experience.

For buttered pop corn, Creamo Nut Butter is fine—the boys and girls love its rich delicate flavor.

The absolute purity and easy digestibility of Blanton Creamo Nut Butter make it especially welcome in the sick room and nursery.

Blanton Creamo Nut Butter

(In the Blue Package)

Made from rich cocoanut fats and nut oils, churned in pure pasteurized cream, which imparts a delicate flavor that is typical of Creamaid products. Nothing purer or more wholesome than Blanton Creamo Nut Butter ever came from a churn.

Sold by best dealers everywhere, endorsed by thousands of regular users. Creamo Nut Butter is growing more popular every day—especially as it reduces the family butter expense to about half.

Test the goodness and economy for yourself.

Try it on waffles or wheat cakes—piping hot, with plenty of Creamo Nut Butter. Just try it. Use all the Creamo you want, for the cost is small for the food value obtained. Everyone enjoys it. Creamo Nut Butter should be on your table just as regularly as salt and pepper!

Ask your Dealer for CREAMO NUT BUTTER in the blue package. Others like it. So will you.

Blanton Creamo Oleomargarine, in the yellow package, is the finest Animal Fat Oleomargarine you can buy. Churned in pasteurized cream and sold by best dealers everywhere.

BOSTON, Nov. 4.—Official returns from 674 precincts out of the 1206 in the State show the affirmative leading in the referendum on the bill to legalize the sale of light wines and beers. The figures are: Yes, 242,310; no, 232,270.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 4.—Scattered returns on the Mulberger referendum show an affirmative vote. Yes, 93,753; no, 39,556. On account of some of its regulatory provisions, the act received the endorsement of the Anti-Saloon League and others.

 I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles, that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news, always be drastically independent, never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

The Crusade for Pure Milk.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
 In the Oct. 30 edition, among the letters from the people, was a comment on the milk condition of St. Louis, written by George F. Jordan. Mr. Jordan says the only way to give St. Louis pure milk is to give the Health Department sufficient funds and a sufficient force of inspectors. He advises that "our well-meaning folk" promote a crusade for such an appropriation instead of recommending powdered milk for infant consumption.

In as far as Mr. Jordan explicitly states that he considers a sufficient budget necessary before we can have decent milk, he voices one of the fundamental demands of the newly-formed Citizens' Milk Committee. But in so far as he implies that we do not understand all the needs of the situation, he fails to understand our purpose.

We want decent milk for St. Louis and we want our Health Commission able to provide and protect such a supply of milk. It is unfortunate that the totally inadequate budget of the Health Department had to be brought to the public's attention through any channel other than through the Department of Health. But since it became necessary to rally to Dr. Starkloff's support, we want him to realize that we fully intend to co-operate with him and the dairies—in providing milk that can be used with safety.

Until we get decent milk, we cannot agree with Mr. Jordan in starting a crusade for the greater use of raw milk. Quite the contrary. We heartily advise the universal use of canned and powdered milk. In no other way (in as far as the present character of the raw milk supply is a factor) can the infant mortality and morbidity rate be reduced.

The Citizens' Milk Committee will meet Nov. 16 at 10:30 a. m. in Scroggie-Vandervoort-Barney's auditorium. Mr. Jordan and every other interested citizen of St. Louis is respectfully requested to be present. The milk situation will be discussed and every possible means to hasten a decent supply of milk will be presented.

Ballots Withheld.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
 May I protest publicly against a practice observed by me in my polling place, Ward 13, Precinct 28, at 4067 Shenandoah avenue?

I entered the place at about 11 o'clock in the morning. Owing to the crowded condition some time elapsed before I was handed my ballot ticket. Only two were presented to me out of the total of six I was entitled to.

When I demanded all of them, two more were given me. Upon my further insisting the official had to get up from the table to get a fifth ticket—it happened to be the Socialist (not the Socialist-Labor) ticket—from behind somewhere. The "Socialist" ticket, the "Farmer-Workers" ticket, was apparently not there at all.

While waiting for my turn I noticed that every voter, man or woman, was being handed only one ballot ticket.

I made inquiry afterwards among those of my neighborhood who had voted earlier than I and all stated that they had been handed only two tickets. Respectfully,
 H. GLATTE,
 4058 Fland avenue.

A Disappointed Woman Voter.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
 Let me say in behalf of the women voters of St. Louis and vicinity they have gained from their diligent labor the rights which we hope will put them on a standing basis with the male population of the world.

When the men go to the polls, they are given an official ballot and permitted to make their own selections, but the women of my acquaintance have had "no choice in the matter whatever."

I am a voter of St. Louis and did not get as much as a glance at the ballot. If we women must suffer disappointment now, I sincerely hope it will be rectified in the elections to come.

A DISAPPOINTED VOTER.

Bees and Fruit.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
 In a recent Sunday Post-Dispatch I saw in your paper a news item which is intended to foster the antiquated idea that bees injure fruit, destroy grapes, making honey out of grapejuice and impoverishing vineyards.

Bees are a necessary agent in the pollination of fruit blossoms; that they never injure fruit is a matter firmly established.

The tongue of the bee is soft, cannot become rigid. The bee laps up the nectar. The feelers of the bee are soft and cannot pierce anything. Birds puncture and destroy the fruit and bees suck the wasting juices.

It is time newsgatherers learned to treat with respect a business that in the United States alone produces about $11,000,000 worth of honey and wax, to say nothing of fruit.

As for riches in fruit juice stored in bee hives and supers, it could not be sold as honey, honey being only produced from the nectar of flowers and stored for winter food. In this latitude, in my opinion, fruit juice is sure death to every bee in the hive.
 GENEVRA STROTHER.

THE REPUBLICAN TASK.

The battle for the League of Nations was not decided by the Republican victory, but merely entered another phase.

The outcome of the campaign, which ended with such an overwhelming disaster for the Democrats was not determined by the League issue. Republican leaders themselves disclaimed a solemn referendum on the question whether the United States would join with other nations in a compact to establish effective processes of maintaining just peace through the enforcement of arbitration and international law. A great, influential body of Republican leaders assured the people that the League was not at stake, but only certain points in the form of American participation.

In so far as the League was the issue, the fight centered on the so-called Wilson League, the peace covenant as it was brought from Versailles, and that stands condemned. Wilsonism, so-called, meaning the uncompromising, dictatorial attitude of the President with regard to the peace treaty and the advice of the Senate, is repudiated. General discontent with the President's methods and his administration and other after-the-war conditions united an enormous body of voters in opposition to the Democratic party.

A host of friends of the League did not support the President's attitude in the great work to which he had brought the thought of the world and in which he had participated. Democrats and Independents who wanted the League differed with Mr. Wilson in his refusal to treat with Republican members of the Senate and accept a fair compromise on reservations.

The Post-Dispatch, thinking far more of the League than of the President's personal ends, differed with him and urged him to take counsel of all parties in the Senate; accept reservations and trust to the future to work out a more perfect League and covenant.

The League was our great concern in the campaign, and it was chiefly because we thought there was more assurance of full American participation in the League in the platform and pledges of the Democrats than in the platform and evasions of the Republicans that we supported Gov. Cox.

Now that the Republican party has gained all of its political ends; now that revenges have been wrought, resentments satisfied, ambitions achieved, discontent expressed in victory at the polls, we hope that the President-elect will take counsel of the men of high and large vision as to the part America should play in the rehabilitation of ruined Europe and the advance of civilization through the union of nations in maintaining justice and peace through reason and law.

We hope Mr. Harding will take counsel of the Tafts, the Wickershams, the Rootes and the Lowells, who translate America first to mean American leadership in civilization, in democracy, in helpfulness and in achievement for justice and liberty and humanity the world over, and not take counsel of the Johnsons, the Borahs and the Reeds, who translate America first into isolation and selfishness.

It is gratifying to note that Mr. Harding's first expression after the election was not the sense of exultant triumph in an unparalleled political success, which was justified by the returns, but a sense of responsibility for the great task before him and his party. It is a great task, in the settlement of both foreign and domestic questions, but the first and greatest problem is to determine our relation to the League of Nations, formed for the preservation of just peace and all the higher interests of mankind.

Nothing equals that in importance to Americans and the other peoples of the earth. We hope that in the full sense of responsibility, Mr. Harding and his associates in the Government will find a way to co-operate in an efficient peace covenant, a covenant with enough teeth to maintain a just peace by the enforcement of peace processes and the decisions of the League's international court.

In the righteous solution of this problem, Mr. Harding and his administration ought to have, and will have, the co-operation of the whole people.

The Independents and Democrats who voted for him and his party candidates will expect a realization of their League hopes and will co-operate heartily in reaching a sound conclusion.

The President-elect ought to have the hearty co-operation of Americans, irrespective of party, in a wise solution of our pressing domestic problems, such as tax reforms, the restoration of peace conditions and the maintenance of industrial peace and prosperity through sound measures for economic and social justice.

The Republican opportunity is unlimited. The party will control every branch of the Federal Government. It can work its will at all points. It has new responsibilities in state governments. The landslide made radical changes in a number of states.

In Missouri, there is no regret outside of the Democratic organization at the indicated complete overthrow of all the Democratic machine elements which have hitherto blocked progress in the State. The peanut politicians, the yaps and the special interest magnates who have long ridden the Democratic party, are thrust out. There will be no regret over the victory anywhere, if the Republican administration shall meet public expectation by righting the wrongs and destroying the obstacles to progress which have burdened the Democrats. With sound election reforms, which will prevent all frauds and will free the electorate from the obstacles to independent voting; with a fair redistribution of the State, which will enable the voters to execute their will with ease and certainty; with good roads and measures assuring just taxation and the promotion of legitimate business, Missouri will start on a new era.

We indulge the hope that the Republicans will be equal to the responsibilities and opportunities in all their fields of political control. The confidence of the people was expressed in the unprecedented vote throughout the country. They are commissioned to work out the problems confronting the people. We bid them Godspeed in the task and bespeak sympathetic co-operation in every good purpose and endeavor.

DEFEAT OF THE TWO K'S.

The effectiveness of the women's work for better local courts will be especially appreciated by these familiar with the usual effects of smothering majorities in overwhelming opposition to unworthy candidates for offices below that of the head of the ticket.

Had the women not obtained the vote and had they not engaged in this inviting work, the opposition to the three K's on the judicial ticket would have found only a languid expression in the election returns. But the vote had come to the women. They did engage in the fight, and right gallantly and ably they conducted it.

Instead of running behind a few hundred or a few thousand votes, the three K's were found tens of thousands of votes in the rear. One K—Mr. Killoren—who appealed to elements of special strength the others did not possess, achieved with difficulty a small majority in a year of smashing majorities. Two K's—Messrs. Kimmel and Krueger—were rejected. The work of the Post-Dispatch in the primaries was continued.

Franklin Miller was elected Circuit Judge by a majority of more than 3200, whereas other candidates on his ticket were defeated by approximately 50,000. Anthony Hochdoerfer was elected Judge of the Court of Criminal Correction by a vote in like contrast with that of the unsuccessful candidates of his party.

A measure of the women's influence on the result is found in this difference between the vote of the candidates they favored and the vote of those who lacked their organized support. That they should have made this headway against a tide running with such overpowering swiftness is amazing to experienced observers of politics.

The women were united. Their cause was just. Their first victory will work a profound change in the administration of local justice and strike dismay to the forces of lawlessness. Mr. Killoren is the sole representative of the old machine to survive the storm of the primaries and the more furious storm of the election. The warning to would-be machine builders of the future is obvious. Who can doubt that suffrage for women has brought us to a time of new and better political incentives, new and better campaign methods and more certain and vastly improved election results?

PENNY MEN AND DOLLAR MEN.

A man was crossing the Market Square in Belleville the other day when he saw a penny. He picked it up. Then he saw a nickel and picked that up. He might have gone right on picking up money, but he saw a policeman coming and he left off to tell the policeman what a lucky man he was, for hadn't he found a penny and a nickel?

The policeman was of a deductive turn of mind. He deduced that where there was a penny and a nickel there might be a dime. He looked around, and sure enough, there was a dime. He picked it up and stopped deducing. The man who had found 6 cents and the man who had found 10 cents laughed loudly and felicitated each other and agreed that it was really remarkable that one of them should find 6 cents and the other 10 cents at the same time and place. But they did not look for more.

Then along came a third man. He was just a fish-market man, but he had a theory, and it was this: Where there are pennies and nickels and dimes there are likely to be dollars. He looked around and found a $5 bill.

And that is the way it goes. There are penny and nickel men who never get dimes because they never look for them and dime men who look no further than the dime, and dollar men, who think that dollars are there and go after them and get them. And that is the preaching of this little tale of pennies, nickels, dimes and dollars.

TUESDAY NIGHT'S AUGURY.

The Post-Dispatch's election-returns service was distinguished in many ways. Dimensionally, for instance, it reached as far north as Canada and south to the Gulf of Mexico. Locally it informed thousands massed about the building and other thoroughfares assembled in the 21 schools and two armories where substations had been established for recording the news.

In addition to the bulletins the news was heralded by word of mouth, a gigantic mouth. The high-powered magnavox installed in the Post-Dispatch office so amplifies the voice as to make it audible for 10 miles where no other sound conflicts. Tuesday night the messages were heard distinctly for several blocks, over the multitudinous clamor. The smaller instruments in the schools and armories were equally satisfactory, not only in articulating the reports, but also in reproducing the music which enlivened the news service.

In organizing and delivering this service the Post-Dispatch was given invaluable assistance by a number of agencies. Acknowledgment is made to the Western Union, the Bell Telephone, Union Electric, the United Railways, the Board of Education, Mayor Kiel, who furnished police protection for the crowd, notwithstanding the unusual election-night demands on the force; Superintendent of Streets Talbert, and to the other St. Louis papers for gracefully acquiescing in the special privileges indispensable to the enterprise.

The unprecedented territorial extent of the service was due to the wireless telephone station of W. E. Woods at his residence, 4312 De Tonty street. Reports transmitted to Mr. Woods' station were radiated into a hundred homes in the city; were caught at the radio station at Camp Pike, near Little Rock, Ark., and from there flung to ships in the Gulf of Mexico. Northward the same invisible Mercuries—super-Mercuries were nearer correct—sped to Ellendale, N. D., which winged them on to Canada.

It is true to say that the age of mechanical miracles is here, but imagination may engagingly speculate in the wonders that are to be. Is the ancient custom of forgoing at newspaper buildings on election night soon to disappear? On the first Tuesday following the first Monday of November, 1924, will a new news mode have arrived? Will every apartment, flat, cottage, mansion and solitary farmhouse be equipped with its own simple receiving station by which we shall read the tidings of the ballot battle in the slippers comfort of the home?

Something like that may be read in the augury of Tuesday night's gratifying experience.

TRAIL'S END.

JUST A MINUTE

MR. ANTWERP'S OPINION.

"IT IS interesting to recall after the campaign to what an extent party association colored our opinions and controlled our feelings. We speak of the independent vote as if it were always with us, but as a matter of fact it is not. The Democrats enjoyed a big independent vote four years ago. They raised the Socialist and everyone else upon the recollections of a President who was against war and had really kept us out of a war with Mexico."

"It became very evident in the present campaign that people were taking refuge in party. We had become confused as to the issues, and in confusion we all go home. We shall probably find that the entire Socialist vote went home, and unless the Farmer-Labor party made some inroad upon it the Socialist vote will no doubt equal or exceed that cast by the same party in any prior election."

"Republicans went home early. They may be said to have been rooting in the old party tree two years ago, when we elected a Republican Congress. That was in some respects an amazing thing for a country to do after we had brilliantly won a war not for ourselves alone, but for the rest of the world. Nobody has satisfactorily explained it. We knew it would mean certain trouble in reconstruction. It was a dreadful mistake, but we did it. Probably the best explanation was that the Republicans have a majority party, always successful except when it is divided. I think that is a shrewd guess."

"What is the future of parties in the country? I have said all the time that the Democratic party could not do better than lose in the present campaign. We have been too much engrossed with world affairs to recall the domestic lineup. We need to be reminded by another term of Republican rule that the Republican is for those who exploit us, whereas the hope of liberalism lies for the time being with the Democratic party. Four years of Republican rule is precisely what the Democratic party needs now for its own good. It needs to have the Republicans tamper with the liberalizing legislation of the first Wilson administration and try to put us back in the several sets of chains forged for us through those years in which we had government for big business. Then we can have an election, and there will not be a Republican party any more."

"The Socialist vote will in my opinion grow steadily, and farmers will resort to their own organizations more than formerly for political redress. The farmers have upon their hands the serious problem of how to make farming profitable. There is no greater or more pressing problem than that, and I don't believe they are wrong in considering that they shall have to solve it themselves. I confidently expect to see them capture the West."

"The Democratic party has the most promising future. It has already won to it the more responsible liberal element and the South gives it a start which no other liberalizing movement is able to get. The Democratic party cannot be particularly proud of that sort of support, but they have it. It made possible the party's fine record in Congress from 1912 to 1916, when the Democrats released every liberalizing thing lodged behind the dam of Republican opposition to anything but wealth for those at the top. The stuff caught in that jam may be said to constitute the sum of our latter-day progress. We have not yet realized that some of it was through.

"So much for parties. They are interesting now, because we all seem to have got back to the old home place, revived its prejudices and for the time being resumed our old associations with those about us. It is as if all the people in the big cities went back for a space to the small towns in which they were raised. It has no more permanence or importance than that. We all know we cannot stay, and every one of us knows always where there is a good train out."

HOW IT HAPPENED.

There were a great many reasons why people voted the Republican ticket in the late campaign. Some of them were comical. We encountered a few instances worth relating. An old gentleman who voted for Mr. Wilson four years ago is employed at a gasoline filling station. He had been reported for the Republican ticket this time, and we asked him about it. He said it was true. "Why have you changed?" we asked him. "I'll tell you," he answered. "The Democrats give us prohibition, and I'm against it." "But don't you know that a Democratic President vetoed the Volstead act, which was passed over his head by a Republican Congress?" we countered. He seemed puzzled. "Is that so?" he asked. We assured him it was so. He took his cap off, rolled the mystery of it all around in his head once, and said: "It don't make no difference. The Democrats was in power."

Another man who had voted for Mr. Wilson four years ago was almost bitter in his opposition to the Democrats this time. We asked him about it one day. "What's in your mind about it?" we asked him. He thought a moment, and then said: "I don't mind telling how I feel about it. I registered for the war, and the Democrats never called on me. They made a boob of me."

Opposition to the Democrats because of the high cost of living were common. Possibly one man in five blamed them for it, and among the women the percentage was certainly higher. Among farmers the lower prices for farm produce were a tremendous factor. "I got 3 cents for hogs when Cleveland was President," one farmer said. "A while back we got 20 cents, and now we are getting about 13. I knew it would happen."

The women, who were expected to vote for the League of Nations, did not do it. Why? There was a reason. It is a reason as old as woman's contrariness. Do you know what it is? We will tell you: Because.

With Malice Aforethought.

"Ever have any accidents?" asked the insurance man of the lanky Westerner who had put in an application for a policy. "Nope." Then he added as an afterthought, "Got a couple of rattlesnake bites, though."

"Great Scott, man! Don't you call those accidents?" "No, sir. They bit me on purpose."—American Legion Weekly.

WILSON.

I SAW a tree loom grandly in the mist Upon a hill in silent strength it stood. Thick, billowing clouds obscured its towering mass Making dim outlines, etched in doubtful gray: But we who walked that way but yesterday, Knew it to be an ancient, living oak. A landmark in the deepest fog and gloom. I watched it till the rising sun's first ray. Touching it, made a glory round its head Gilding its branches with a golden shaft. Dispel the chilling vapors of the night Dissolving them in rays of Truth's clear light.

MARY STERLING.

The MIRROR of PUBLIC OPINION

This column is designed to reproduce without bias the latest comment by the leading publishers, newspapers and periodicals on the questions of the day.

FRANKLIN'S WISDOM.

From the Chicago Journal.
 THE will of Benjamin Franklin, who died in 1790, contained a bequest of $5000 to the city of Boston and the State of Massachusetts, "as a mark of respect for having appointed" him "as agent in England at the handsome salary of $10,000 yearly." The will also provided that the money should be put out at 5 per cent interest for 100 years. At the end of that time $1,131 of the accumulated money should be reinvested at 5 per cent for another 100 years. The remainder becomes available for public benefits. At the expiration of the second century the whole amount becomes so. When the first century ended, Jan. 1, 1891, the $5000 had grown to $431,343. That amount is equally divisible by 131 and is the reason for the peculiar fraction of 131 in the division which Franklin made a part of the bequest. He had worked out the amount the gift would be worth at that time. In accordance with the provisions of the will, the sum was divided. The reinvested amount was $102,082. The city and State received the remainder, which amounted to $329,261. This sum was not aside for public works. On Jan. 1, 1920, the interest-bearing fund had reached $281,195. By the end of the century, that is, in 1991, it will have reached approximately $6,000,000. The gift was insignificant when it was made. Had the State and city used it then, neither would have realized more than a remembrance from it. But Franklin saw the possibilities of the accumulated interest and when the end of the second century arrives the State and city will have a fund worth while.

PRODUCTION AND PRICES.

From the New Republic.
 THERE are two ways for manufacturers to deal with a stubborn public refusal to buy at present high prices. One is to cut the prices. The other, which seems to be gaining popularity, is to shut down your factory and wait for better days. This method is now being used by New England textile companies on a considerable scale. Such shutdowns, in the light of a national account, are purely selfish. Furthermore, at this time when production of essentials is vitally necessary, and must be continued if a vicious circle of inflation is to be broken, nothing can more quickly destroy confidence in the responsibility of capitalist management, nor lay American industry open to deeper suspicion on the part of both public and employee, than such a willful withdrawal of the power to produce.

INDUSTRIAL PENSIONS.

From Report of New York Merchants.
 THE fundamental reason underlying almost every pension system is the desire of the employer to assure his employees of independence during their old age, as both a reward for faithfulness and as the best method of performing a duty. A previous social theory which the average employer accepts is that an employer should not use the services of an employee during his fruitful period of his life and then heartlessly discard him to the human scrapheap where he is dependent upon society, if he has not been able to accumulate savings from his earnings to care for himself and his dependents during his old age. On the other hand, it is expensive and unbusinesslike to keep an employee, who has become inefficient because of old age, at his regular position, and it is frequently difficult to find sufficient positions suitable to the capability of, or satisfactory to all superannuated employees. The only alternative to pension them in some way in addition to the desire to reward faithfulness or to fulfill a duty there is usually in the mind of the employer, hope of attaining definite beneficial effects on the efficiency and the prosperity of the business.

It was said at league headquarters in the Century Building today that no neighborhood will be left untouched in the soliciting of members and no organization of women left unvisited. The present registered membership is about 12,000.

Meeting This Afternoon. Representatives of a number of St. Louis organizations will meet with the league this afternoon at 731 Century Building with a view to consolidating and co-ordinating the legislative needs of the city that will be sought by these organizations at the next Legislature. Mrs. E. M. Grossman, legislative chairman of the League of Women Voters, will preside.

The league has obtained permission of the Board of Education to use the public schools as forums for women, under the direction of Mrs. David Lewis, chairman of civics, for the meeting of district groups of women to receive instruction in civic civics. These meetings will be held monthly throughout the year.

Public Health Drives Planned. The league is now working with the Council of Jewish Women, an affiliated organization, for a clean milk, and will conduct monthly drives to bring about measures of civic sanitation and public health, which the league characterizes as the A B C of citizenship. Women of the ward and precinct organizations will be actively engaged in this work.

It was announced also that the Bureau of Public Speaking, which did such effective work in the campaign to "clean the courts," will be kept under the direction of Mrs. Fred L. English, and speakers will be at the service of any organization desiring talks on any subject pertaining to civic welfare and other local and national issues of a nonpartisan nature.

The league will continue its work with affiliated organizations for child hygiene, women in industry and new protective legislation for women and children.

A rally of ward and precinct leaders will be held at Hotel Statler once a month, conducted on the order of a convention, at which precinct captains, sent as delegates, will confer with members of the Board of Presidents and Directors.

Head of Courthouse "Ring" Declares Kimmel Gave No Cause for Opposition.

Nat Goldstein, Circuit Clerk and head of the "Courthouse Ring," said today that he thought the chief factor in the defeat of the two "Ks" and the low vote of Killoren were the fight made on them before the August primary by Collector Koeln and the opposition of the Globe-Democrat, Republican party organ.

"When the Globe came out against these three Republican judges," Goldstein said, "people naturally thought they must be pretty bad."

Goldstein's regret appeared to be tempered by the fact that his particular candidate, Killoren, was elected. However, he was fully sympathetic with those who were beaten, particularly with Judge Kimmel, who, he declared, had given no cause, by any official act of his, for the opposition of women and independent voters. However, Goldstein was willing to be magnanimous in regard to the women.

Tennessee Governor-Elect Lost to Brother in 1886

Apparent Victory of Alf Taylor Recalls Campaign in Which He and Bob, a Democrat, Railed at Each Other.

By the Associated Press. NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 4.—Col. Alf Taylor, Republican, whose election as Governor of Tennessee over Gov. Roberts, Democrat, was indicated last night on the basis of available returns, is 72 years old. He ran for Governor more than a third of a century ago.

He is a brother of "Our Bob," late Governor and Senator from Tennessee, and the probability of his election recalls the memorable contest between the two brothers in 1886 for the governorship, Alf running as a Republican and Bob as a Democrat.

The two Taylor brothers in the 1886 contest made a spirited campaign, speaking to immense crowds, hammering each other's parties and poking fun at each other, but winding up each day with every evidence of unimpaired brotherly affection.

An aged woman with whom the two visited during the campaign recognized the consideration each gave the other and on one occasion presented the brothers with clusters of roses—red for Alf and white for Bob. The campaign thereupon and to this day was known as the "war of the roses," and the "Knight of the White Rose," as Bob was termed, won at the polls.

During the 1886 campaign Bob Taylor carried with him a fiddle made, he told his audiences, at his home at Happy Valley, in East Tennessee, and which he played at each joint speaking date. He rarely attempted to discuss the serious issues of the campaign, spending the greater part of his time in telling jokes at the expense of his serious-minded brother, Alf, and playing the fiddle. Alf Taylor finally countered by producing the Taylor Quartette, composed of his sons and nephews, which played old-time Southern melodies of guitar, banjo and violin at each speaking date of the Republican brother.

He has taken his defeat philosophically, without recriminations, with praise for the efforts that have been put forth by his party managers, regarding the Democratic catastrophe as having been brought about by forces which it was neither in his power nor theirs to control. Now, as before election, his chief interest appears to be in the fate of the League of Nations than in his own defeat.

Cox's plans for the immediate future call for a trip into Mississippi early next week with Senator Pat Harrison. They will spend a week or two hunting and then he will return to his duties as Governor at Columbus. He may decide to work in a trip to California with Mrs. Cox between now and the first of the year.

The Governor has decided to make a trip to Europe, probably early in January. He said he intended to make a careful study of conditions there. Such a study would, of course, be an asset if he decides to figure again in national politics.

"All of the press, standards of political independence have been established in minds untrammelled by previous sordid political experience; through the press in this campaign the best that is in each of us has been called out to the service of our city."

"That this cause may be continued and be voiced co-operatively through the press, and the St. Louis League of Women Voters is our hope."

"Yours sincerely," "League of Women Voters of St. Louis."

"Board of Presidents," "Mrs. C. B. Paris, Democrat," "Mrs. H. E. Sprague, Republican," "Mrs. Eugene T. Senseseney, Independent."

who would favor the ring in improper ways. Thinking this, no one can blame them for doing as they did. Why, the talk about the "three Ks" made in each of us has been called out to the service of our city."

"Oh, well," Goldstein mused, "what's the use of holding a grudge? Why spend money and go gray, trying to get even with people? Sometimes your worst enemies will become your best friends. One of my best friends is a man who wanted to kill me once."

Comment on the election of Senator Harding in the leading foreign language newspapers of the country, telegraphed to the Post-Dispatch, is as follows:

New Yorker Staats-Zeitung: "With a powerful voice and in a manner excluding any doubt the people have declared for return to American principles and to a Government, by the people and for the people."

The outcome of yesterday's election means the success of a principle, namely, of the principle of "Americanism." In a manner that cannot be misunderstood the people have protested that we no longer sinned with an agreement which was made in Paris in defiance of our Congress and our rights and which would involve us in "entangling alliances."

"Warren G. Harding will direct the affairs of the country during the coming four years. In the interest of our country it is to be hoped that he and his advisers will know how to interpret correctly the people's voice."

New Yorker Herald: "Harding and Coolidge, the candidates of the Republican party, obtained a majority of about 1,100,000 in New York State alone and of 430,000 in New York City. That majority means more than repudiation of the man who is the foremost exponent of the discredited system. It means also repudiation of a policy which during the war was a great show, took hold of popular fancy and dominated souls through hysterics. A new sentiment of the American masses manifests itself through the vote, and that means a change of policy."

"Universal dissatisfaction with the events of recent years, bitterness at the era of calumnies and inciting indignation at the autocratic regime that had prevailed—all that manifested itself yesterday, and the election of Senator Harding is a direct result of the election."

EDITORIAL COMMENT OF LONDON PAPERS

Election Regarded as Decisive Rejection of President's Policies.

By the Associated Press. LONDON, Nov. 4.—The London morning papers devote considerable editorial space to the American election. They dwell upon what they characterize as the decisive rejection of the present Government's policy and express the opinion that the turn-over gives prospect that whatever policy President Harding and his Cabinet may adopt will at least have a chance of acceptance by a Congress strongly Republican.

The American elections on this occasion have a much greater interest for Europe than has usually been the case. The Times thinks there is no reason to doubt that President Harding will have a good working majority in both houses of Congress, and is "pleased to think that Mr. Harding will not be our Prime Minister and Foreign Minister."

It regards the elections as a distinct warning to Bolsheviks and extremists of all kinds. The Morning Post compares President Harding with Wilson with Debs. It says both are idealists with identical methods, though different aims, and thinks that "America's rejection of such autocratic idealism will bring relief to the world."

"Americans," adds the paper, "have decided not in favor of strident and arrogant nationalism, but against prying and unworkable interventionism."

The Daily Chronicle admits that the battle raged round the body of the League of Nations, but not in the sense that America is hostile to concerted measures to preserve peace, and believes that now that domestic problems loom large, the average American desires above all things "a policy the opposite of a policy of adventure."

The Daily Mail says: "In election Mr. Harding the American people declared emphatically for a spell of conservatism in home politics and cautious Americanism in the world outlook. The defeat of Cox condemns the League of Nations as constructed at Versailles. But, while Mr. Harding declares the league, he and his party are aware that the United States must sooner or later

GERMAN PAPERS CONCUR IN ATTEMPT TO FIND COMFORT IN THE ELECTION OF HARDING

A Note of Warning, However, Is Given Against Undue Optimism in Consequence of Democratic Defeat.

By the Associated Press. BERLIN, Nov. 4.—A note of warning against undue optimism in consequence of the Democratic defeat in the American election is to be found in the complete range of press comment, although the editorial references in the German papers concur in the attempt to find comfort in Senator Harding's victory, as presaging early restoration of normal conditions between the United States and Germany.

The pan-German editors all make vitriolic onslaughts on President Wilson, who is charged, among other things, with responsibility for the hunger blockade and the irreconcilable post-war attitude of hostility to Germany.

The Lokai Anzeiger says: "We have got rid of Wilson, who, in the last analysis, was a man who, in the material power of America was deciding the world war and her foremost mind was leading the world toward such a peace as might have given us a tranquil, sunny convalescence, instead of the present world's fair of spites, greeds and suspicions between nations and disunion inside each of them. The soiled, scarred old world of international politics seemed to be on the eve of redemption on the day when the news came that Germany would surrender on the basis of Wilson's 14 points."

"In what proportions a want of dynamic genius in President Wilson and an irredeemable viciousness of spirit in other politicians contributed to darken that opening prospect we cannot tell yet. It is gone now. Europe is snarling, grating and jockeying in the old alms, while all the remaining effect of Wilsonism in America is the decision of the presidential election by an overwhelming balance of public antipathy to it. The story is that of one of the most pitiful of all failures in the execution of a task nobly conceived."

take their part in settling the troubles of the Old World."

The Daily News, in an editorial, expresses the opinion that the composition of President Harding's Cabinet will be more important for England than Harding's election.

"The appointment of Herbert Hoover and Elihu Root, whose names are mentioned," says the paper, "would be a serious blow here with unqualified satisfaction."

View of Provincial Papers. The leading British provincial newspapers consider the election of Senator Harding as a serious indication that the electors are tired of what the journals call "one man rule." The Liverpool Post says:

"Senator Harding goes to the White House as the representative of a profound belief, long maturing among the larger part of the nation, that Wilsonism is alien to American traditions, and that America should not entangle herself in the affairs of distracted Europe."

This newspaper expresses the opinion that the election of Senator Harding does not mean antagonism to the League of Nations, and believes "that America is searching in her heart of hearts for some method of achieving the august purpose of the covenant which she can approve without misgiving."

The Yorkshire Post considers it a good thing in the present difficult phase of its national history that the United States should have elected the candidate it did.

"Aim Already Defined." "Senator Harding's aim, at least, is already defined; he wishes to help the world so far as he can honorably with the approval of Congress, and without compromising American interests."

"We believe we interpret European as well as British opinion," it adds, "when we say that an American Government which stands for its own country first, last and for all the time, will be understood and appreciated in this old world of ours which has lost its illusions and is no longer in a mood to strain after visionary politics."

PARIS PAPERS FEAR FOR TARIFF CHANGES

By the Associated Press. PARIS, Nov. 4.—Paris newspapers yesterday commenting on the American election, agree that Senator Harding's success is a distinct defeat for the League of Nations as established by the Wilson covenant.

The Temps says: "The election may be considered as a referendum on the entrance of the United States into the League of Nations, the republic of which is a personal defeat for President Wilson."

La Liberté says: "American common sense has condemned Utopia in all its forms. From an international point of view the American election day was a bad one for Socialism and the society of nations."

BRYAN HOLDS BOTH WILSON AND COX TO BLAME FOR DEFEAT

President, He Says, in League Attitude, Laid Foundation for Rout and Candidate Completed Structure.

Declares Cox's Attacks on Taft and Hoover Were Disgraceful and Misrepresented Republican Attitude

By the Associated Press. LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 4.—William J. Bryan holds President Wilson and Gov. Cox jointly responsible for the disaster that on Tuesday overtook the Democratic party. He says the President laid the foundation and the Governor completed the structure. In a statement given out last evening just before leaving Lincoln for the East, Bryan severely condemned the President, nor does he spare Gov. Cox. The statement says:

"While the majorities are larger than even the Republican leaders expected, a Democratic defeat was inevitable, and the blame is easily placed. The President laid the foundations for the disaster and Gov. Cox completed the structure. The President's attitude toward the public life every Democrat who dared to differ from him even in minute details, while he made no effort to strengthen the Democrats who made him the keeper of his conscience."

"He alienated all Republican support and invited partisan opposition by his appeal, just before the election of 1918, for a Congress that would support his personal leadership, and then, knowing full well that the majority in the nation was against him, he refused to deal with the Senate as a co-ordinate branch of the Government."

"Insisted on Dictating." "Instead of recognizing during the constitutional provision during a two-thirds majority for ratification compelled compromise, he insisted upon dictating the terms upon which ratification could be had and then on the 19th of March stubbornly rejected ratification with reservations, even when Senator Harding and some 35 other Republicans were willing to accept the league as he wrote it, with the few changes upon which they insisted."

"By thus preventing ratification the President assumed responsibility for the nation's failure to enter the league and thrust the league into the campaign as a partisan issue. The people, confronted with the choice between presidential infallibility and respect for the opinion of the majority of the Senate, naturally chose the latter, and the Democratic party, by indulging the President's position, invited the defeat that has overtaken it."

"Gov. Cox instead of repairing the injury done by the President, aggravated the situation by the manner in which he avoided discussion of the issue and misrepresented the position of the Republican party on the league issue, which he declared to be paramount."

"His attempt to put the Democratic party in the attitude of being the sole guardian of peace was ridiculous, and his assault upon such well-known advocates of peace as the late President Taft and Herbert Hoover was disgraceful."

"Nothing in a Name." "The American people want the Government to play its part in the solution of war, but they are indifferent as to whether we are part of a league or part of a nation of nations. There is nothing in a name, but everything in a sentiment. The real issue presented by the Democratic party was not whether we should co-operate with other nations interested in peace, but whether we should assume moral obligation which had no weight except as it suspended the right of Congress to act independently when the time arrived for action. The nation will do its part in aiding to prevent war, but it will not surrender into the keeping of any foreign group the right to determine when we shall declare war. Now that our participation will rest upon the will of Congress and not upon the arbitrary opinion of a single man, we may expect that universal disarmament will be made one of the conditions upon which we attempt to advise."

"The country will expect Mr. Harding to carry out his pledge to advance the cause of world peace, and there is no reason to doubt that he will do so. In the meantime the progressive forces of the nation will organize to compel Congress and the President to provide the legislative means by which the masses can protect themselves from the greed of the exploiters."

GOV. COX PLANS TRIP TO EUROPE PROBABLY EARLY IN JANUARY

Defeated Candidate to Go to Mississippi on Hunting Trip With Senator Harrison Next Week.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. DAYTON, O., Nov. 4.—With quick and graceful transition from presidential candidate to newspaper publisher and farmer, James M. Cox spent his afternoon yesterday husking corn on his farm at Jacksonburg, 30 miles south of Dayton.

He has taken his defeat philosophically, without recriminations, with praise for the efforts that have been put forth by his party managers, regarding the Democratic catastrophe as having been brought about by forces which it was neither in his power nor theirs to control. Now, as before election, his chief interest appears to be in the fate of the League of Nations than in his own defeat.

62,000,000 FLORINS PAID TO WILHELM AS KING OF PRUSSIA

LONDON, Nov. 4.—More than 62,000,000 Dutch florins have been paid to former Emperor William of Germany as King of Prussia by the Prussian Government since he fled to Holland, according to an official statement made to the legal committee of the Prussian Assembly. Wednesday, says a London Times dispatch from Berlin. The former Emperor also received money to pay for the building of his house at Deurn, while various sums were paid to Count Bentinck, owner of Bentinck Castle, where the one-time monarch first made his residence in Holland. The dispatch adds that the Dutch florins also have been made to the former royal Princes.

The Dutch florin in normal times was valued at about 40 cents.

Man Not Known at Address He Gave

In Tuesday's Post-Dispatch, a police item about two bartenders, giving the names of William Finnegan and Robert Walsh, stated the address of William Finnegan as 4455 Maffitt avenue. Mrs. Davis, who says she lives there, says there is no one of the name of Finnegan living there.

WILSON'S MILK

EVAPORATED

ALL mankind depends upon milk as the only food during the infant stage. Man can not live long on either meat, fruit, vegetables or grain alone. But deprive him of all these foods, and he will THRIVE on MILK ALONE.

The One Perfect Food

What man MUST HAVE when he is a baby, he would be wise to use freely in after life.

And the ideal milk for young and old is Wilson's Evaporated Milk, because it has been pronounced by health authorities safe, digestible and highly nourishing.

A Delicious Meal that is Easy to Get

Eat rice every day—you'll enjoy it. Eat it as you do potatoes with gravy or butter on it. Eat it as a vegetable with meat, fish, or poultry. Eat it for breakfast with sugar and cream. There are over three hundred delicious ways to prepare rice.

Rice cuts down household expense. It's economical food you can eat. One pound makes a family of five. If many youngsters run about your house, buy a few more pounds.

How to Cook Rice:

1. Wash rice in cold water until clear.
2. Boil in salted water for 15 minutes.
3. Drain off excess liquid.
4. Fluff with a fork.

A Delicious Meal

THIS is a meal to gratify the hungriest appetite. And it can be prepared in less than half an hour. Fry a slice of steak. Boil rice southern style so that the plump flakes all stand separately. Then, serve together with golden butter melting through the rice. You simply can't beat it for deliciousness.

You can't beat rice for healthfulness, either. It gives you strength. It's the day's work. It's the quicken-up food for any other world.

Rice cuts down household expense. It is the most economical food you can eat. One cupful makes enough for a family of five. If any is left, it can be made into many delicious dishes. Rice is never wasted. Give your youngsters rice every day. It promotes healthy growth in children.

Try this Master Recipe

This famous recipe of the south is so simple that anyone by following the directions can successfully cook rice in true southern style the first time they try.

Wash rice thoroughly in a strainer. Use a deep porcelain or enameled-ware kettle. To four cups of boiling water add one level teaspoonful of salt. Then add one cup of washed rice so slowly that water continues to boil. Lift rice occasionally with fork, and shake kettle so that no kernels stick to bottom. But—this is important—never stir the rice. Boil twenty minutes. Then pour water off, if any, and place in open oven where it will finish swelling without burning. Each grain will stand alone, plump, tender and delicious.

Consult any standard cook book for a number of excellent recipes for rice.

Here are a few others.

MEAT PIES

4 cups of cooked rice, 1 onion, 2 cups tomatoes, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1 tablespoon fat, 1 pound raw meat or leftover meat cut up small. Melt the fat, add the sliced onion, and if raw meat is used, add and stir until the red color disappears. Add the tomato and seasoning. If cooked meat is used, add it with the tomato and seasoning, after the onion is browned, and heat through. Grease a baking dish, put in a layer of the rice, add the meat and gravy, and cover with the rice dotted with fat. Bake for half an hour.

RICE BAKED WITH CHEESE

Make a white sauce of the flour, fat and milk. Line a baking dish with boiled rice about an inch deep, sprinkle over with bread crumbs, grated cheese, salt, pepper and paprika. Pour sauce over this, add layer of rice and repeat until dish is filled. Bake until browned on top.

SPANISH LOAF

I can spinach, 4 cups boiled rice, 2 cups white sauce, 1 red pepper. You can make a small can (or three bunches) of spinach serve seven or eight people by making into a loaf combined with rice. By making a thick white sauce of two cups of skimmed milk, four tablespoons flour, four tablespoons oil, salt, pepper and paprika. Pour sauce over this, add layer of rice and repeat until dish is filled. Bake until browned on top. Mix with the rice, chopped spinach and pepper. Pour into a loaf and bake twenty minutes.

LIMITATIONS ON EXPORTS OF COAL URGED BY ALEXANDER

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Limitations on the export of coal to insure an adequate supply for home industries and to direct the trade to countries that are natural markets for American coal and to those to which American ships sail in ballast were advocated today by Secretary of Commerce Alexander.

When conditions return to normal, the Secretary said, there is little possibility of American producers obtaining a permanent foothold in Europe and competing with the mines of England, Germany and France. For South American countries, however, he declared the United States is the logical and natural source of supply.

"Our national prestige in these countries would be increased," Alexander continued, "if the United States were looked to as a friendly and certain source for such indispensable raw material, and our influence would be correspondingly increased if any drastic action was taken designed to hinder the free movement of coal to these countries."

Coal can be exported advantageously to countries on trade routes where American ships lack cargoes for the outward voyage, the Secretary asserted. He urged producers and shipping interests to cooperate to this end.

Coal supply for home industry, however, should first be assured, the Secretary declared, before any determined effort is made to obtain foreign markets.

ILLINOIS PLANS CAMPAIGN TO STIR INTEREST IN SCHOOLS

Community Meetings to Be Held in Every School in State Between Nov. 29 and Dec. 10.
By the Associated Press.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 4.—Wider interest among parents of school pupils in the work of the public school teacher is the subject of a statewide campaign planned by the State Department of Public Instruction, under whose direction community meetings will be held in every schoolhouse in the State between Nov. 29 and Dec. 10.

Such a "united statewide effort," State Superintendent F. G. Blair has announced in his circular letter to the teachers and school officers, "cannot fail to arouse and fix the attention of the people of the State upon the whole school situation."

Interest of most parents heretofore is characterized by Superintendent Blair as "superficial, apathetic." They appear neither to disapprove or approve what is going on. Some seem to think that it will make no difference what they may say or do, the teachers will continue to do as they please. Some seem to take it for granted everything will go along all right.

To overcome this attitude "requires resourcefulness and enthusiasm" to which the teachers are urged. "Superficial, monotonous routine meetings," would defeat the very end of the campaign, the State superintendent's letter warns.

A day or evening in every schoolhouse should be announced immediately, Blair writes. An earnest effort made to get as many as possible of the people of the community to come out and see and hear about the work of the children. Display of school work for them, might be followed by a program of music, chess, or in other instances "athletics, outdoor and indoor sports might be the central attraction."

$250 AWARD TO MRS. NOLKER UPHELD BY APPEALS COURT

Husband Had Appealed From Ruling on Ground That Question Had Been Adjudicated.

The St. Louis Court of Appeals today affirmed a ruling made in the Circuit Court last December awarding to Mrs. Pearl Nolker temporary maintenance of $250 a month pending trial of a separate maintenance suit which she had filed at that time against Robert E. Nolker, vice president and secretary of the Commercial Electrical Supply Co.

Nolker had appealed from the ruling on the ground that the question had been adjudicated in another maintenance suit which had been dismissed in the Supreme Court. Today's decision was based on the fact that at the time the temporary maintenance was granted, a suit for divorce instituted by Nolker was pending on appeal and later was decided in Mrs. Nolker's favor. She had instituted a second maintenance suit in the meantime and that suit has never been disposed of.

Since the filing of the second suit for maintenance, Mrs. Nolker had obtained a divorce and $27,000 alimony in gross on a petition filed by her in the Clayton Circuit Court, and Nolker has appealed from that alimony award to the Supreme Court.

"Red" Greer, Who Used Callopie in Campaign, Declares It "Never Played Right Tunes."

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
DAYTON, O., Nov. 4.—Clarence Greer, popularly known as "Red," leader of the Democracy in Montgomery County, which includes the home of Gov. Cox, issued a statement in which he said:

"The people have spoken, but they need not have spoken so loud."

Montgomery County went 8000 for Senator Harding, despite everything that could be done by Greer and his circus callopie. Some Democratic workers took the callopie around to Greer's house at noon yesterday and asked what should be done with it.

"Take it away," Greer commanded. "Throw it in the Miami. It never played the right tunes."

WOMAN DIES IN HOSPITAL AFTER SHOOTING SELF 4 TIMES

Mrs. Emma Fritsch Left Note Saying She Worried About Everything and Was Tired of Life.

Mrs. Emma Fritsch, 36 years old, of 2243 Clark avenue, died at the city hospital yesterday afternoon, shortly after she had been found unconscious in her home after shooting herself four times with a revolver belonging to her husband, Harry. Three of the bullets entered the head and the fourth caused a glancing wound.

Mrs. Fritsch was found by neighbors who heard the shots and called the police, who broke the locked doors of the home. She was on the floor in a front room with the revolver beside her. Three notes were on a table near by. Two of the notes were addressed to Mrs. F. R. Lane, 4256 Swan avenue, and Mrs. G. Hosley, 2332 Market street, and were sealed. The third was an open letter and read:

"I am tired of this life and want to end it all myself. My husband has been very good to me and tried to make me happy, but I always worried about every little thing. I thought to end it all, as this world is nothing to me."

2 WHITES AND 6 NEGROES DEAD IN RACE CLASH OVER ELECTION

Bodies of Several More Expected to Be Found in Ruins of 25 Buildings at Orlando, Fla.

By the Associated Press.

ORLANDO, Fla., Nov. 4.—Former service men patrolled the streets of Orlando, Ocoee and nearby towns throughout the night to prevent renewal of the race clash which is known to have resulted in the death at Ocoee Tuesday night of two white men and six negroes. Quiet prevailed early today and the authorities said they did not expect any further outbreak.

Deputy Sheriffs who were called to Ocoee by the riot, which was the outgrowth of the election, said they believed the death toll would exceed eight. They said they were convinced that bodies of several negroes would be found in the ruins of 25 houses destroyed by fire.

The battle between white citizens and negroes followed an attempt on the part of a negro to vote. He was denied the privilege by election officials on the ground that he had not paid his poll tax.

Later, it is reported, white citizens believed a crowd of negroes intended to attack them and the shooting resulted.

MISSOURI THEATER—Opening Week

Unless it gives the simple, staple results which the Hupmobile owner gets, no car can truly be said to be worth what it costs.

It should everlastingly keep going. It should not have to be "hailed home" except for accident.

The repair costs per year should be negligible. (We believe the average cost per car for Hupmobile repairs is lower than any car in the world.)

It should, like the Hupmobile, have a reputation for low-cost long life so good that it will always command a high price when re-sold.

These things are axiomatic. They make up the thing known as value. They are the things you pay for and get in the Hupmobile.

POLAND IN GRIP OF TYPHUS FEVER PLAGUE

All Europe Said to Be in Danger of Epidemic Unless Malady Is Checked.

By the Associated Press.

WARSAW, Nov. 4.—Poland is in far worse condition from typhus fever dangers than ever in her history, says a report by Col. Harry L. Gilchrist, commander of the American Polish Relief Expedition which has been co-operating with the Polish Government more than a year in an effort to wipe out the disease.

"Unless outside aid is forthcoming at once," says the report, "suffering will be intense during the approaching winter and all Europe will be threatened with a terrible typhus fever epidemic."

Increased dangers from the spread of typhus fever has been brought about by the Polish-Russian War, which has destroyed all Eastern defenses against the infected regions of Russia as the armies have pushed each other back and forth across the disputed districts.

Regarding the Bolshevik activities in August, which threatened Warsaw for days, and their effect upon the typhus fever situation, Col. Gilchrist, summarizing his report, attributed the renewed dangers to the following causes:

"Complete abandonment of all typhus fever work in the worst typhus fever districts of Poland; capture by the Bolsheviks of all eastern quarantine stations and removal of the barriers established under great difficulties; capture and destruction of much of the paraphernalia and materials which had been distributed in many towns and villages throughout the typhus districts; introduction by Bolshevik troops of a new source of contamination to places free from the disease, infecting the armies of Poland, and infecting of the populace returning to homes recently occupied by Bolshevik soldiers."

Poland realizes the seriousness of the present situation, and is doing all in her power to cope with it, says the report.

In closing, Col. Gilchrist says: "While there are no figures available to enumerate the actual amount of damage wrought by the Bolshevik armies in their recent advances toward Poland, it is predicted by the most conservative that the number of new typhus carriers scattered over all Poland will reach many thousands, and the financial loss due to the destruction of sanitary materials, crops and other property will run into millions of dollars."

ILLINOIS FARMERS SEEKING TO INCREASE STOCK OF HOGS

Low Price of Corn Makes It More Economical to Feed Than to Sell It.

By the Associated Press.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 4.—Farmers in some counties in Illinois who last year sold nearly half their holdings of stock hogs and reduced the State total 15 per cent because of the low price of pork are now seeking to increase their stock of hogs because of the low price of corn. They have found that the most economical use of corn is to feed it to more hogs, and not to sell it.

This announcement is made by S. D. Fessenden, Federal agricultural statistician here, after compiling detailed figures from all counties on the number of hogs on hand, and the tendencies of the market. Since Sept. 1, 1920, on which date Illinois' hog census was taken, there has already been a slight but noticeable increase.

Jackson County farmers by Sept. 1 had reduced their total number of hogs most, retaining only 83 per cent. Percentages in some other counties of the number of hogs as compared to the year before are as follows: Marion County, 88; Fayette, 87; Jersey, 88; Montgomery, 89; Macoupin, Platt and Crawford, all 86; and Macon and Lincoln, 87.

Hogs increased greatly in 1918, when the Government urged farmers to greater production. Higher prices, however, did not come, Fessenden said, and soon the farmers reduced their stock. In many cases selling even their brood sows. A further reduction was caused by the last spring's crop. Litters were very small, and the pigs were, as a rule, weak and sickly. Many of them

To Give the Hair a Naturally Wavy Effect

Ever since the virtues of the almirante hair-curling method first became known in this country, druggists here have been having a really extraordinary demand for liquid almirante. Its effectiveness, its convenience and its entire harmlessness doubtless have been responsible for its increasing use among well-groomed women.

One need only apply a little of the liquid with a clean tooth brush before going up the hair and the tresses will have a beautiful wavy and glossy appearance which bears no marks of artificiality. The best way is to divide the hair into strands and moisten each of them from root to tip. There is no discoloration, no sticky, streaky or other unpleasant feature. Liquid almirante is fine also as an aid in shaping "ear muffs" and in keeping them in place over the ears.

died, a circumstance, Fessenden said, which baffles agriculturists to explain.

Next spring, he added, if it depends on the farmers, litters will come oftener, and enough pigs will be produced to save from waste the big Illinois corn crop.

Col. George H. Shelton Dies.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—The death of Col. George H. Shelton, regular army, who was successively chief of staff, regimental and brigade commander in the Twenty-sixth

4 MORE POLICEMEN MURDERED IN IRELAND

Evidence of Terror in Fact One's Body Lay 24 Hours Before Killing Was Reported.

By the Associated Press.
DUBLIN, Nov. 4.—The anti-police vendetta continues. Four more policemen were murdered yesterday at different places under daring circumstances, one was kidnapped and several were wounded.

As indicating the terror prevailing,
the body of one murdered policeman lay 24 hours on the road and was passed by many persons before the authorities were informed.

The Athlone Printing Works, where the Westmeath Independent was published, were burned early yesterday by men in military lorries with incendiary bombs and petrol.
The damage is estimated at $100,000.
By the destruction of this establishment 300 employees are made idle.

Inspector-General of Irish Constabulary Resigns.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Nov. 4.—Sir Thomas James Smith, Inspector-General of the Irish constabulary, has resigned, says a dispatch to the Daily Mail from Dublin. His resignation is attributed to "disapproval of undisciplined action and destruction of property by armed forces of the crown, which are now virtually all controlled by the military."
Sir Thomas, who was only recently knighted, was Commissioner of Police in Belfast. He was transferred to Dublin when Gen. Byrnes was removed from the Inspector-General-ship of the constabulary.

THREE SHOTS FIRED AT BURGLAR CAUGHT RANSACKING ROOM

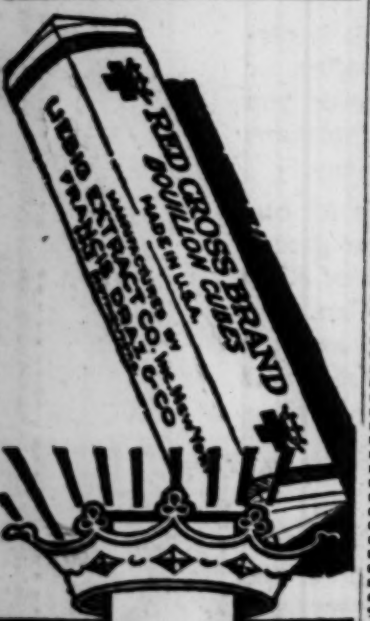

Intruder in Hallway Avenue Home
Believed to Have Been Wounded
—Other Robberies.

Edward Hinkel of 3319 Halliday avenue believes he wounded a burglar whom he caught ransacking his room when he was awakened by a noise at 2:30 a. m. today.
As he sat up in bed, he said, he saw a form in the room, and, reaching beneath his pillow, obtained his revolver and fired three shots. At the third shot, he said, the figure groaned and yelled: "For God's sake, man, don't shoot that thing no more." The voice, he said, was that of a negro.

When he jumped up and switched on the lights the intruder was gone, having slipped out a side window left open. A purse containing $2 was taken from Hinkel's trousers and a flashlight from the dresser.

In the saloon and restaurant of Charles Kay, 2544 W. St. Louis avenue, early yesterday burglars sampled a dozen pies, taking bites out of each, after which they threw the pies on the floor. They took $48 from a cash register and cigars and cigarettes valued at $30.

Shoes valued at $550 were stolen from the store of Samuel Knox, 4817 Mackinac avenue, by burglars early yesterday and jewelry valued at $350 from the home of Louis Franke Jr.,
5054 Maple avenue.

NEW MOVE TO CONTROL WHISKY SUBSTITUTES

Patent Medicines to Be Sold Only in Drug Stores Under Revised Rule.

By the Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Regulations have been prepared to restrict the sale of all preparations containing alcohol to those stores peculiarly adapted to the trade. The plan has been laid on the desk of Commissioner of Internal Revenue Williams and only awaits his final approval to become a rule for the enforcement of prohibition in the future.

At least the following restrictions on sales are contemplated:
Patent medicines to be sold only in drug stores.

Perfumes and toilet waters and similar preparations to be sold only in drug stores and department stores.

Flavoring extracts to be sold only in groceries and stores serving a grocery trade.

Deli-cate-sen stores and places resembling the saloons of old would be permitted to sell only the beverages which contain less than one-half of 1 per cent of alcohol. The proposed regulations are part of the general plan of policing the Volstead prohibition enforcement amendment.

Medicines Sold as Beverages.
Up to the present it has been found almost impossible to prevent the wide distribution of certain productions, offered as medicines and for their medicinal value only, but purchased in great quantities for beverage purposes. Stores have sprung up which cater to a general grocery or fruit trade, but which subvert to a great extent the prohibition enforcement amendment.

The war of the prohibition enforcement department on these preparations has not eliminated the possibilities of their sale to persons who would be cheered by the alcoholic contents.

Protests have been received from some of the producers of these medicines, who insist that any Government endeavor to regulate business to the extent proposed would call forth a court battle, but the International Revenue Department has gone ahead with its plans.

Attorneys for the department have declared the regulations would not go outside either the letter or the spirit of the law.

The regulations, it is thought, would be sufficient to satisfy regulators, who have had keen competition from "corner stores" handling fruits and candies, but also selling the most popular of certain so-called patent medicines.

Permits Hard to Get.
The department is making every possible endeavor to eliminate the sale of such productions for beverage purposes. To obtain a permit for their manufacture now entails considerable more trouble than it did when the enforcement organization first began operations. Thousands of permits are not being renewed, and where they are renewed the producers are being forced in some instances to change the formula.

WOMEN WEAR COATS BACKWARDS AS RESULT OF BETS ON COX

Man Rolls Peanut Around Block With Spike, Another Rolls Peanut With Toothpick.

The payment of foolish, yet inexpensive, election bets yesterday was not confined to men.

Miss Eva Cross and Miss Catherine Surkamp, stenographers in the office of the Monsanto Chemical Works, 1800 South Second street, paraded along Broadway with their coats and hats on backward as a result of having bet that Cox would win. The wager was paid off at the noon hour and the two girls were followed by a highly amused crowd of their co-workers as they marched north on Broadway from 1800 south to 1800 south and back again.

Claude Wasserman of 5324 Easton avenue, elevator starter in the Arcade Building, rolled a peanut from the Eighth street entrance of the building around the block to the starting point, using a large iron spike to urge the peanut on its journey. He made the circuit in 15 minutes and, under the terms of the wager, whenever he stopped he shouted "Hurrah for Cox!"

Frank Harris, manager of the mail order department of Meyer Brothers Drug Co., rolled a peanut with a toothpick from Fourth street and Clark avenue to Fourth and Market streets. He wore a nightgown and nightcap during the "ceremonies."

—and that's why this Cigarette wins nine men out of ten

MOST men find that Spurs fit their cigarette wants seven days a week, fifty-two weeks a year. Just bet your "bottom dollar" that you won't tire of Spur's old-time tobacco taste, for it's real-as-life and rare-as-June. Now to find out why!

Good tobacco puts Spurs at the top. Just that. The blend of finest Turkish leaves and the pick of home-grown crops gives Spurs their new, mild richness.

But Spurs don't stop at cheering your taste. They draw easier and burn slower, because Spurs are crimped—not pasted.

Then there's a neat "brown-and-silver" package that's three-fold, which keeps Spur's fragrance and flavor ready for you.

INDUSTRIALS DROP SHARPLY; MOTORS AND STEEL WEAK

Rail Shares Display Some Strength, but Also Are Affected by Decline.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The Evening Post, in its copyrighted financial review, today says:

Another severe break in industrial shares, accompanied by a sharp irregular movement in railroad stocks, occurred on the Stock Exchange today. What took place obviously had no connection whatever with the result of the presidential election; the predictions of a gradual improvement in conditions as a consequence of Republican victory must give place for the present to existing handicaps. Among these the further decline in exchange rates on Europe, the weakness in commodities like cotton, and a rise in call loans from 8 to 10 per cent occupy a large place.

Interchange loans lost more than a cent from yesterday's final quotation, while practically every other European rate fell to a lower level. However disappointing this prolonged decline must be to those who thought it forecast a steady improvement in foreign conditions, numerous factors have favored such a pessimistic view. Our exporters and banks have extended large credits to foreign buyers of American goods. The reserve board itself has estimated the amount of these unmet balances at $2,099,000,000. When on top of this existing debt there is imposed an acute monetary stringency at home and commercial difficulties abroad which hinder repayment, a sharp movement of exchange rates against Europe could hardly fail to occur.

Industrials Are Weak.

Weakness in the industrials was more or less a latent condition all day, though from time to time it was offset by advances in the railway stock, particularly by the gain of several points in Southern Pacific. In the afternoon, however, even the railroads surrendered a large part of their gains, while among industrial stocks there were sharp declines. Steel, oil and motor shares were particularly singled out in the selling. The market closed not far from the lowest prices of the day.

Whether based merely on the desire of speculators to create a diversion in the railroad group while selling industrial stocks, or on sounder considerations, the rise in the price of railway shares indicates a changing viewpoint in regard to these securities. At a moment when the outlook for industrial companies is particularly uncertain, the certainty of an adequate railway income is peculiarly attractive.

Bank of England Statement.
Today's statement of the Bank of England showed no important changes except a further reduction in the ratio of reserve from 19 1/2 to 18 per cent. The lowest percentage of the year was the 8 1/2 per cent. The bank held a cash reserve of 23 1/2 per cent. Against deposits. The decline from that figure has not been due to loss of gold, which has actually increased $25,000,000, nor to expansion of loans, which have increased only $15,000,000. But since last March the bank has issued $135,000,000 additional notes, while at the same time the amount of cash held in the banking reserve itself, consisting of the bank's own notes, had declined by the equivalent of $18,000,000. In other words, the notes have passed out into general circulation or have been deposited as collateral for the Treasury's own large issues of paper money.

"YOU'RE not going to bother with programs, are you?"

"Bother! I should say not! I'm going to irritate myself with 'em! Why, the programs are the backbone of the club! They're the classiest score cards you ever saw for a small town, and they don't cost us a cent!"

"But you can't get any ads for them," objected Dillingham.

"It's all arranged! These local merchants wouldn't pay cash, but they'd listen to a proposition to pay for the space in trade. So I signed up some of 'em, and they gave me due bills, and then I gave the due bills to the Sentinel to pay for the printing. Oh, a few of the big ones paid cash—enough to cover our postage for the season, anyway. By the way, I told you about the billboards, didn't I?"

"You did not."

"I must have forgotten it. Why, this isn't a big enough town to have many permanent painted boards, but there's plenty of business in sheets. Anyway, you should a ball park have all painted signs? I've just made one enormous billboard out of the whole fence, inside and outside, and it'll be velvet!"

"Fine!" said Dillingham. "How about flags?"

"As many as we can stand. They tell me Greystone won the pennant in '98, but there wasn't any pennant. We'll get one—about the size of a freight car—Champions, 1898—and run that up on the big flagpole. Then we want little ones plastered wherever anyone might think of looking. I guess that finishes the budget, all but the new uniforms and the grading and sodding."

"Before we get through," observed Ward, "we might as well decide about the team. The present outfit isn't any good—and if we don't win a couple of games a month, or something like that, there won't be any crowd to buy all the stuff we're stocking up with."

"Inside of a week," promised McHenry, "I'll have a team that'll make Main street look like a stormy night in a cemetery. We may have to build a new concrete stand."

"A hundred-thousand-dollar infield?" jibed Dillingham.

"No; but one for $59.98 looks just as good to Greystone!"

"Oh, we were going to arrange for special prices for tickets!" said Ward. "How about numbering them and having a certain proportion lucky—anyone who bought one of 'em would get his money back?"

"That'll do—but I've got a better one yet."

Every time the team wins a game, a nickel is knocked off the admission fee for the next game. If they win three in a row, a dime comes off. Will the populace root for Greystone?"

"What's the matter with a bargain day on Monday," suggested Dillingham. "That's always a light afternoon—rebate something to the spectators for every run the team makes. Say a cent a run. Or else we might buy a lot of cheap premiums in New York, and whenever Greystone scores six runs or more, we give each man in the audience a tobacco pouch, and each woman a bag, or a box of candy."

"A noble thought," said McHenry, approvingly. "I've made a deal with the Sentinel to give us three columns a day, and I'll write the copy myself. That's in consideration of my giving them the job to print the score cards and the tickets. And the report of that game is going to be a cross between the baseball page and the society column. I've hired a high-school girl to camp in the grand stand and make notes of all the new clothes she sees."

"And now," said Dillingham, "all we've got to do is to win about 97 straight games, and we'll leap from eighth place in the league to seventh at a single bound!"

• • • • •

One of McHenry's invariable rules was not to fear publicity. When he once set out to acquire Greystone with the rejuvenation of the team, he accomplished it by the use of so much printer's ink that Dillingham complained of the dampness in Main street, and mentioned influenza as a probable consequence. Unless one were deaf, dumb, blind and unintelligent, it was impossible to exist within a radius of five miles from the Mansion House, and not know that on a certain Saturday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, the corpse of Greystone baseball would spring upon its feet and gibber at the leaders of the league. It was equally impossible not to know that the local grounds were henceforward to be a sort of combination three-ringed circus and schutzenfest. Music was even mentioned—music by the Greystone Silver Cornet Band; and previous to the game, there was to be a street parade, with the members of the team in automobiles, and President McHenry riding with the Mayor, or the Mayor riding with President McHenry—one wasn't entirely certain which. Mr. Dillingham was to ride with the chairman of the City Council; Mr. Ward with the leading attorney; and, during the course of the procession, speeches would be made by all of them—appropriate speeches, with reference to the tariff, the coun-tax for roads, the desirability of a change of administration, and other subjects intimately connected with the national pastime. At the field special souvenirs, cushions free, all refreshments at reduced and temporary prices, score cards gratis, and a photograph of each and every player on a perfectly good post card, all ready for mailing as soon as an address and a name was written on it, and a 1-cent stamp attached.

Greystone came to the game. It had to. At the first glance, it saw that the new management had actually reformed the grounds, and made them attractive. At the second, it perceived that there were scattered about a number of improvements heretofore assumed to be peculiar to metropolitan parks. Boxes in front of the grand stand, for instance, at 15 cents extra—mathematically ruled foul lines, with terminal flags; landscape gardening at the box and plate—a brand-new score board, with the report of all the league games. The players sported fresh, unsoiled uniforms. At one end of the Greystone bench sat Pierson Dillingham, trying to look like John McGraw; at the other sat Roger Ward, attempting to give an imitation of Connie Mack; and in the center reposed James Pepper McHenry, acting very much like himself and radiating optimism.

The Silver Cornet Band played industriously for half an hour; and the players practiced for 20 minutes. The Mayor spoke a few well-chosen sentences—chosen chiefly by McHenry—and McHenry stated the new policy, and called upon the Mayor's 4-year-old son to throw the first ball, which he did, and wept bitterly because he didn't hit the man he aimed at.

Whereupon Huntington proceeded to play baseball in the presence of Greystone until dark, when the score was 14 to 3, and the umpire called the game.

"And now," said Dillingham, "they've had all the souvenirs and the free grub, and the team got trimmed worse than ever; and tomorrow you'll see about 17 people in your fine new ball park!"

"With the old team, that might have happened," conceded McHenry. "But there's not one of the old team left—you wait and see!"

Dillingham waited; and he saw an audience nearly as large as that of the opening. Following that, another gratifying attendance; and then another gratifying attendance; and then another. And Greystone had lost all four games.

"I give it up," he said frankly. "Of course, as you say, there's a reason—but how long will it last if we don't win some games?"

Chatterer Tries to Frighten Rusty.

By Thornton W. Burgess.

*It sometimes happens that fright
Is better than a stand-up fight.*
—Chatt

CHATTERER the Red Squirrel is such a little fellow that most of his neighbors are too big for him to fight. But he isn't a coward. No, sir, Chatterer isn't a coward. He always stands up for his rights. No one in all the Green Forests stands up for his rights better than does Chatterer the Red Squirrel. He doesn't allow any one to impose on him if he can help it, and usually he finds some way to help it. When he cannot gain a thing by fighting for “Over in that direction lives Red Tail the Hawk,” continued Chatterer. He sets his wits to work to get it in some other way.

Chatterer didn't dare fight his big cousin, Rusty the Fox Squirrel. He knew it the minute he saw Rusty for the first time, and he knew that Rusty knew he knew when he knew that he couldn't have those fat hickory nuts and Rusty had replied that if they were his to come take them, he couldn't take them by fighting. He must try some other Chatterer swallowed two or three times as if he were trying to get rid of something that was coming up. What he really was doing was trying to swallow his temper. And all the time his wits were at work. When the next time he opened his mouth, he said not all the sharp, cross tone he had used when he told Rusty he couldn't have those nuts.

"I guess," said he, "that there aren't enough for both of us, so we won't have any. But I hope you have found a good, safe home." He didn't hope anything of the kind, so of course, that was an untruth.

"I have," he said, "but I am going to go to look for one right away," replied Rusty. "As I said before, I might like the Green Forest. It is quite the nicest place I have ever seen." Chatterer's eyes were still closed.

"The trouble is it is too nice," said Rusty.

"What do you mean by that?"

"Well," replied Chatterer slowly. "It is so nice that too many people like it to make it a safe place for some of us. Before you decide to settle here you ought to know who else lives here."

Rusty turned his head to hide the twinkle in his eyes, for he knew just what Chatterer meant to do, which was to try to scare him. "Of course, I ought to know who my neighbors will be," said he. "Who are they?"

"Well," began Chatterer, "not far from this very place Robby the Horned Owl lives, and I am told he is very fond of squirrels, especially big ones. Perhaps you don't know it, but he often hunts in the day time, especially on dull, dark days."

"You don't say so!" exclaimed Rusty, pretending to look very much startled.

"And over in that direction lives Redtail the Hawk," continued Chatterer. "I've had more than one narrow escape from him."

"That's bad, very bad," replied Rusty, shaking his head.

Chatterer looked at him sharply, for he wasn't quite certain just what Rusty meant, "Where's the nut?" It was too bad Redtail lived there or he would have Chatterer, has escaped. But Rusty looked so innocent that Chatterer decided it was the former and went on.

"Then there is Yowler the Bob Cat. Nobody is ever safe from that fellow. Shadow the Weasel is even worse. One never knows when he will appear. And then at this season there are hunters with terrible guns. They don't bother me much, but I'm told they are very fond of big squirrels."

Rusty dropped the nut he was eating. "What a dreadful place," he cried. "If you'll excuse me, cousin, I think I will move alone." (Copyright, 1920.)

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY

By James J. Montague.

THE AWAKENING.

If it happens that you cherish the delusion
That your education's rather up-to-date,
If you think you've gathered knowledge in profusion
On all weighty modern subjects—only wait;
For your utter lack of learning will confound you;
You will find, in fact, you do not know a thing
When your little children once more gather round you
On returning home from college—in the Spring.

You've been banking quite a bit on Herbert Spencer;
You've been quoting him with fond complacent pride;
Cut him out—you cannot get him past the censor
Who is polishing his golf-clubs by your side.
You were strong for Lindley Murray's form of grammar,
You've employed it in your finest business prose,
But you'll find he gives an awful katemjammer
To a maiden who is powdering her nose.

You were proud that Ivanhoe you're not forgotten,
Though the tale of course is somewhat over-long.
But on learning that the yarn is simply rotten,
You'll admit—if you're a father—that you're wrong.
You thought Hawthorne was a writer of romances,
Which possessed a large degree of grace and charm,
But you'll find that these were only foolish fancies
When you're told that he was just a false alarm.

All the names on which you always placed reliance,
Which you thought would keep their fame while learning lives,
Master minds in every realm of thought and science
You'll discover are recorded now as fives.
You'll be told that you belong with Julius Caesar
And his band of low-brow Romans back in Gaul;
You will think that you're an out-of-date geometer,
That in brief, you don't know anything at all.

AND NO GUARANTEE COMES WITH 'EM.
The new dollar bills look as good as the old ones used to, but you never get as much mileage out of 'em.

A boy and a girl visited on a farm this summer, and were told they must write to their parents.
